High school is a special time for students and a very special place for some of the faculty. Many of the teachers have family members as part of the student body. Their little girl or boy helps to make up the 2300 + students who walk the halls of GCHS everyday.

That sweet little girl who was once only 45-inches tall is now a 5-foot, 4-inch beauty. That rough and tough baby boy who couldn't keep his face clean is now a handsome and gracious gentleman.

Where did the time go? Where did all those years go? They were invested. They were invested in giving our children the character and personalities they possess today. They were spent making the little babies we had 14-18 years ago into the wonderful students they are today.

Some of them are bigger than us and some are smarter. Some will have more education and some will not even go to college and begin careers right after graduation. No matter. They're our children, our off-springs, a reflection of how we once looked, and our assurance that our family tradition and heredity will continue.

They belong to us and we belong to them. That's the way it is and, that's the way it will be — always.

What's here to stay, but always changes?
Cars.

Seniors at GCHS try to have a car by the time they reach their senior year. Whether it be a classic, very used, or a new model, this mode of transportation ensures them of a way to school, to park in the senior lot, and to sleep a little longer in the morning.

Learning to drive is a rewarding experience, but actually being able to cruise the streets is much more fulfilling. The actual learning takes much time and effort. It takes hours of practice, book work, simulation time, and more practice.

Then comes the frightening part of actually getting your license. Will you pass the test? Do you really know all the signs? Are you smart enough and good enough to become one of the persons 'behind the wheel'?

If the answer is 'yes,' your confidence returns and you pass the test. Now you have a new freedom and independence, but you don't have a car.

So you begin to work after school, on Saturday, or whenever the work is available. The purchase of a car is now the most important priority in your life.

Once that priority is met, the next step is the license plate. The personalized plate is a way of expressing your individuality, your interests, and even your loves. It's a way of telling everyone what you represent, what you think, and your beliefs.

What's here to stay, but never changes?
Plates.

So much is happening to our Earth. It changes all the time. We, as residents of this great planet, need to make some changes. Much has been written about saving the Earth and protecting our environment. Much needs to be done.

A green Earth means plants grow, the soil is good, the water is pure, and animals have a place to live and enough to eat.

A green Earth means the sky is blue, the rain is clean, and the air is acceptable to breath.

It means recycle your cans, paper, glass, and plastic. It means adopt a stream and keep it clean. It means feed the birds, help the animals, and ensure that the chain of nature that exists today continue to tomorrow.

It means shut off the lights, stop the drip, recharge instead of repurchase, insulate, turn down the water temperature, bike it instead of driving, shut the refrigerator door, and turn down the heat.

If we start contributing and co-operating, it may mean our children will grow up in a clean, green, and healthy environment. It may mean industrial, water, air, soil, and household pollution will be at a minimum. It may mean that the planet Earth is no longer on the 'endangered' list.

It may mean that this generation cared enough to preserve planet Earth and worked to support environmental programs. It may mean that each of us took a prominent stance to meet this challenge for the protection of our children.

If all this happens, it may mean that we have helped to preserve the Earth for our children and grandchildren. It may mean that we can once again swim in our lakes and take deep breaths of clean, fresh air. It may mean that we have made a difference.

A WONDERFUL TRADITION

On May 10, the graduating girls celebrated a special night known as May Carousal. This special event, traditionally known as May Day, turned out to be a night of many emotions. There was great happiness being with friends and also sadness realizing that graduation was in several weeks. It would be a time to begin life as an adult.

Parents, friends, and relatives filled the gym. There were hundreds of flashing cameras capturing some of the last memories at GCHS.

Retiring Homecoming queen, Leah Schuman, crowned the new queen, Stacie Kennerly. Stacie was escorted by Rob Terrell.

The attendants to the queen and their escorts were Kelly Green and Dan Brazee, Kristi Holsinger and Rod Almos, Amy Isom and Nathan McClain, Addie Lenzi and Craig Leavell, Carrie Owen and Brian Henry, Sarah Patton and Tim White, Michelle Randall and Skip Birdsong, Melissa Tapp and Rob Haack.

After the introduction of the court the performance began to honor the senior girls. The pom-pom squad performed a patriotic salute to America, the rifle squad enthused the crowd with their routine, and the flag girls took the audience to dreamland.

Lastly the cheerleaders performed. They filled the gym with spirit and happiness as they danced their routine.

Following this came the traditional senior dance and May Pole. Next Bryan Ogle sang the theme song of this year's May Carousal. "She's Got A Way."

The evening ended with a candle-light ceremony and the senior girls singing, "I'll See You Again." Memories were made, tears came, and senior girls realized that it was almost time for everyone to go their separate ways. It was a happy evening and one they will always remember and treasure in their hearts.

FOOTBALL GAME

WE WON THE GAME

It was the homecoming game. We played Alton and we won. The score was 35 to 0.

It was a joyous game. The fans were excited that the team was victorious, and the team was proud of their overwhelming win.

The football field was full of students, parents, and former graduates. They came to watch the game and see friends.

The many graduates who attended the game were happy to be back at GCHS to talk with former teachers and old friends. It was a time of reunion for them. It was a time to remember the past and how it was for them just a year or two ago.

The parents came to watch their children play the game, perform in the band, watch their girl in the half-time activities, or just for the love of the sport.

The students were here to participate and cheer. They showed enormous pride through their wild enthusiasm, spirit, and good sportsmanship.

The victory gave everyone great pride. The football team worked together and showed strength and ability. The players never lost their enthusiasm and competitive spirit throughout the entire game.

They showed that teamwork, strategy, and a positive attitude gave them a victory. They showed that football was a combination of talent, ability, coaching, and experience. And they gave the GCHS fans a victory ... good job.

SPIRIT WEEK

6

7

RED AND BLACK

Get the spirit. That's what the students at GCHS had during homecoming spirit week. Student council designated each day as a specific dress day.

Monday was nerd/plaid & dot day .. Tuesday-patriotic day .. Wednesday-dress like the 1950's .. Thursday-reversal .. Friday-school spirit red & black day.

Many students got involved and the week was a great success. Boys looked like girls and girls borrowed skirts from their mother to look like Miss 1950.

The week began with the parade. It was held in the evening and the numerous floats made the parade an overwhelming spirited success.

The triumphant football team closed the week with 36-0 score over Alton High School. It was a good week and a good beginning for the school year.

WILL THE REAL DONNA LUCIA PLEASE STAND

The Homecoming play "Charley's Aunt" took place on October 23-24, 1991. The cast of characters for this production includes Scott Tripp, Patrick Jessee, Dustin Wilkson, Mark Thornsberry, Don Goss, Tom Parmley, Winona Mefford, Alicia Skirball, Regina Hankins, and Renee Biggs.

This cast, along with the direction of Mr. Ronald Pennell, and stage manager, Erin Rotter, made the production a success in capturing the attention of the audience and continued to hold it throughout the performance.

The first act takes place in Jack Chesney's room at college. Charley Wykeham (played by Mark Thornsberry) is expecting his aunt Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez (Winona Mefford) who he has never met ... When she doesn't arrive, Lord Fancourt Babberley (Don Goss) dresses up in an elderly woman's clothing and takes Donna Lucia's place.

The real excitement occurs when the real Donna Lucia shows up. Since nobody knows who she is, the masquerade continues.

Also during this time, Stephen Spettigue (Scott Tripp) falls in love with the impostor Donna Lucia ... and the complications continue.

In the end, Lord Babberley reveals his true identity. This takes off the pressure of being lady-like and living a lie. Now the real Donna Lucia is also acknowledged, and her identity is no longer a secret.

The set construction was supervised Beverley Scroggins with the assistance of the students in her stagecraft and individual events class. These students include Renee Biggs, Dustin Wilkinson, Don Goss, Kara Andrews, Regina Hankins, Erin Rotter, Jason Cass, Nona Mefford, Alicia Skirball, Tom Parmley, Marvin Bazzell, Philip Dean, Mark Thornsberry, and Jake Erickson.

With their help and the talents of Mrs. Scroggins and Mr. Pennell, all went according to schedule. Once again, the audience viewed an outstanding performance ... congratulations.

MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS

Homecoming week provided us with great memories. Many of them were common to the entire student body, but many were personal memories.

They were not thoughts of spectacular happenings, but beautiful thoughts of personal special encounters. These rememberings ranged from the semi-formal dance to the exciting football game.

Who could forget how beautiful some of the girls looked in their dresses at the dance, or how loud a few boys got cheering for the Warriors at the homecoming football game? And how about the play and the crowning of the queen and king that took place after the performance.

The parade was special for all participants and the Granite City citizens who watched the floats, rifle and flag squads, pom-pom girls, and the wonderful Warrior band.

Each of us had our own personal memories that only we knew about. Memories that made us remember just how special high school life was and how very special it is to be part of the Granite City High School homecoming.

THE BIG MEETINGS

A large gathering of seniors — that's the best way to describe some of the senior meetings held in the auditorium this year. In spite of the big number of seniors entering and exiting the large area, it was great for all seniors to get together and listen to what Mr. Painter or Mr. Kennerly had to say.

These meetings were not held every month or at any scheduled time. The seniors gathered only when the administration found it necessary to discuss pertinent information with the soon-to-be graduates. Some of these meetings included prom, homecoming, and may carousel information, senior announcements, cap and gown, and other items of importance as they occurred.

Although most of the meetings went well, toward the end of the year seniors began to talk louder to each other making it a little difficult to listen to the information being presented to them. However, when asked to quiet down, they did so in an respectful manner and began to really listen to the what was being said to them — just for them.

Aside from all that, the meetings were a good way for the seniors to gather in one big room to learn and discuss senior business and senior happenings.

THE EMBARRASSING ZONE

Has this every happen to you? Whoops, bang, boom, and down the stairs you went. Or how about when you were a freshman and you thought you were so cool walking on the icy sidewalk thinking you would not fall — but did?

Everyone has an embarrassing moment now and then. When those things happen, you just want to crawl in a hole and hide. When those embarrassing moments happen, just keep you head high and imagine no one saw you .. even if you know everyone was watching.

Some of the common embarrassing moments at GCHS include falling, spilling food all over the floor in the cafeteria, walking into walls or doors, talking about someone when they were right behind you, and going to the wrong class.

Don't worry about it .. just laugh .. everyone else did.

DID YOU KNOW THAT . . . .

Do you really know your school?

Have you ever walked down the hallway and wondered how many lockers there are in the main building, or tried to count the seemingly endless number of stairs you climb everyday? If so, this story is for you.

In actuality, there are 2103 lockers in the main building. If these lockers were lined up in a straight line they would be equivalent to the length of seven football fields.

There are 498 individual steps in the main building. If they were stacked one on top of the other, you could walk up one side of the Statue of Liberty and down the other.

Did you know that there were 2393 students at GCHS? (as of November 1991) If we all crammed into the Repertory Theatre, we could fill it from top to bottom three times.

In light of the many hot summer days spent at our high school, we counted all the windows in the main building. Although it never seemed as though there were enough, GCHS has 493 of them.

Some students don't realize the changes that have been made to GCHS in past years. The gymnasium was not always in a separate building. It was in the main building where the auditorium now stands. Classrooms 132 and 138 were previously used as locker rooms to accompany the old gymnasium. The part of the basement known as the Empathy dungeon contained the guidance counselor's offices. Students didn't always have to walk across campus to eat lunch, because the cafeteria was in room 166.

Some students may think that the teachers at GCHS have been here forever. It was our mission to discover the teacher who has taught here for the most consecutive years. Mr. Gale Garbe, drivers education instructor, began teaching here in 1961 and has not transferred. He taught here before Granite City North was built, taught here when this school was Granite City South, and is still here when it is once again Granite City High School.

Some good things just stay forever.

HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE A SENIOR?

You've dreamed of this moment for eleven years now, and finally it has arrived. Never before has anything been as important to you as this. You are finally a senior.

Being a senior means that you have one more year left before you go out into the real world. Going out on your own and having the feeling of freedom is what you've waited for. Remember, though, you still have one more year left and the diploma won't be handed to you if you don't earn it.

Sam Fowler and Shawn Martin said that, "It feels good being a senior because we're the highest in our class."

"We're great because, we can be jerks and nobody will say anything," stated Jeff Heubshman.

Larry Earny remarked that seniors are great because we've went through this school for almost four years.

"Being a senior makes me feel like a king," said Lance Faraone.

Lance Reynolds stated, "Everyone looks up to you and doesn't give you a hard time."

"It feels like you're on your way to a big party," remarked Ben Ahlvers.

Harold Vincent said, "It's scary being a senior because once it's over, you're on your own."

Seniors have many advantages that other students don't. This includes the senior parking lot, panoramic pictures, homecoming, senior prom, may carousel, senior recognition, graduation, senior pictures, and the ability to goof off just a little and still be considered mature.

Senior time is usually a good time and also plenty of work. For all the good times shared by the senior students, there are just as many hours put in to studying for major tests, term papers, and math tests. It's a time of sharing, caring, and a few good times.

WAKE UP STUDENTS

Z Z Z Z . . . This is an all too familiar sign of boredom. By the time 3 p.m. arrives at GCHS, some students are tired of the whole day. Maybe they didn't get enough sleep the night before, maybe this was the day they decided not to pay attention in class, or maybe they were just ready to begin their 4 p.m. jobs.

Some students find it difficult to stay awake the entire day at school. What do they do to prevent themselves from falling off into slumber land? Students have different answers and opinions. Here are just a few.

"I draw tattoos on my ankles to keep myself from getting bored," says Liz Harris.

Laurie Monroe says she just "falls asleep in class" when she can no longer keep her eyes open.

"I daydream about the weekend and my true love to keep myself from getting bored," says Julie Merz.

"I don't have to worry about being bored, I never am," stated Mike Garcia.

Hopefully the art of paying attention in class is not gone forever. Just listen to what your teachers have to say . . . maybe you'll find out that you don't know it all and you really have something to learn.

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

Six years of grammar school, two years of junior high school, and four years of high school, and now what happens? What will become of the class of 1992?

The futures are varied as the seniors are themselves. Some will attend colleges, junior colleges, or universities, while others will go from high school to an immediate job. Here are some of their future plans:

"My future plans are going to a junior college and majoring in business," said Stacey Pyles. "We are going away to college," added Christine Reyes and Shelly Wilbur.

Cheryl Schmidt stated, "I'm going to A.I.T. for the National Guard-Army. Then go to college at Carbondale or University of Illinois to get a degree in architecture."

Stephen Schaus and Jennifer Ruder said, "We're going to go to a Midwestern University, get good jobs, make lots of money, get married, and live happily ever after."

"We're going to an Illinois college and rooming together," replied Michelle Raynor and Kerri Rebstock.

No one can predict what will happen in the future, but then no one really knows what will happen tomorrow either.

THINKING THIN AND HEALTHY

What's for lunch? How about a hamburger with lettuce and tomatoes, fries, and a chocolate shake. Sound familiar?

So what if you're on a diet. You're hungry and the hamburger sounds mighty good. The diet can begin tomorrow.

Dieting is forever popular and probably more successful in though than actual results. Diets come in various assortments, such as protein, liquid, carbohydrate, high-fiber, and grapefruit. Which ones actually work or take the excess pounds off, which taste good, and which one will you stick with to see some slimming results?

Jamie Vaughn likes the "starvation" diet. She only eats one meal a day - dinner. Then she does aerobic exercise at night.

Some of the eating habits of Shauna Keck have proven successful because she has cut down on the calories she consumes. Also, she has changed from eating junk foods to eating foods that are healthy.

Jeff Heubschman cuts down on the food he eats so he can trim down for wrestling. He stopped snacking and eating junk food so that he eats nutritious foods.

One might think that dieting would be inexpensive because of the decreased amount of food consumed. Wrong. Many diet foods and products are not cheap and it is necessary to purchase them to stick with the program chosen. Examples of diet foods or drinks are Ultra Slim Fast, Jenny Craig, Nutra System, Weight Watchers, Opti-Fast, and different types of diet pills.

Many of these programs plus good sensible eating habits have proven successful because the young people of today have taken a good long look at themselves in the mirror and decided their diet and health were their number one priority.

The 90's may prove to be a decade loaded with new ideas, new fashions, and new health ideas.

THE BIG PERFORMANCE

The speech and theatre students are usually involved in many different areas of communication. The debate team always delivers an impressive discussion wherever they go. The stagecraft students get the shows decorated and lighted for everyone to enjoy, and the individual event students are exceptional.

Coming from all these groups is the entertainers. These students tour different elementary schools and give performances for all the little people to watch and enjoy. Mr. F. Gordon Mueller is the person in charge of the students delivering this good performance.

They sing, dance, and give little skits that are in tune with today's trends. The elementary students are always pleased when they learn the entertainers are coming to their school.

These group of students are a great success due to their long hours of practice and dedication to their performances. Credit should also be given to Mr. Pennell and the other teachers in the speech department for getting these students motivated enough to get in front of large audiences and feel comfortable during their performances. And never forget Mrs. Scroggins who puts it all together behind the scenes with her stagecraft ability.

Credit for the success of the speech department at GCHS should go to the teachers, and especially to the dedicated students involved.

IT'S NOT OVER UNTIL IT'S OVER

It's your senior year and you have everything going for you. Then that dreadful epidemic starts - Senioritis. Before you know it your infected with this disease. It comes on slowly. First you slack off on your homework. Then you miss a reading assignment and figure, "Oh well, I'll catch up tomorrow."

This might work for some, but for others it gets worse and worse. They keep slipping away. These students think they're so close to graduation that nothing could get in their way of leaving GCHS in June.

That's not the way it is. Usually these students end up spending an extra semester in school. Sometimes this is during the summer and sometimes it ends up to be an additional fall semester.

Why does it really happen. Here are some opinions, facts, and comments.

"I could have attended school more regularly. I regret coming back because I could have a good job making some money. Maybe I wouldn't have to get up as early." Sally Brown.

Shawn Martin said, "I used to skip and sleep in class a whole lot. Believe me, if you do it as much as I did, you'll will get caught. I did."

Other seniors stated that they 'just became lazy' during their senior year, 'thought they could slide by,' 'relied on other,' and 'I'm not worried.'

There are many regrets from seniors who had to come back to school instead of going off to work or college. Instead of beginning their fall semester at a college or university, they are at GCHS attending classes they should have attended regularly last semester.

They should always remember that 'it's not over until it's over,' and they are in control of that.

OUR GATEWAY TO FUN

How could there ever be a dull moment with a big city like St. Louis right across the Mississippi River? The residents of Granite City are fortunate to live next to a major city with so many exciting things to do. And the seniors always find something worthwhile to visit.

Many seniors like to visit sporting events, such as the St. Louis Cardinals, Blues, or Storm games. If sports isn't what you prefer, there's always live performances at Keil Auditorium, the Arena, or the new Riverport.

Or, how about some serious shopping. The new additions to the Gallaria are complete, making it one of the more exciting places to shop. Also, Northwest Plaza is now enclosed so it's comfortable to walk around there any time of the year.

Other major St. Louis area shopping places include Crestwood, West County, St. Louis Centre, Union Station, Plaza Frontenac, Jamestown, Northland, Chesterfield, Mid-Rivers Mall, South County, River Roads, West Port, St. Clair Square, and Alton Square.

If shopping isn't what you prefer, there's always the Zoo, St. Louis Science Center, the Art Museum, Grant's Farm, the Arch, or a pleasant walk on the Mississippi Riverfront.

With all these opportunities and places to visit, there should be no problem in finding an entertaining sport, spot, or shopping area to visit ... making St. Louis a great place to have close to us.

IT'S OFF TO COLLEGE WE GO

One of the biggest decisions made by seniors is what to do after graduation. Some will begin a career and other will attend college. The question now is which college?

There are so many different options. Will it be a two-year college, a four-year one, a big university, or a specialty college?

Now you have to figure out how much this will cost you or your parents. Who pays for it? Will I be able to get a scholarship, a grant, or student loan? The price always figures in on the decision.

Some students, however, have already made their decisions. Melisa Lynch says, "Ever since I can remember I have wanted to teach math, and college is the only way to get there." Shannon Marcum says "I'm going to go to Sanford-Brown Business College to be a secretary." Dave Ezell plans to "attend SIU-E."

For the students still deciding on a college some ways to help with this decision is to talk with your guidance counselor, ask friends and family their opinions, do research, and visit schools. This is a decision that will effect you for the rest of your life, so think about it.

THE BEST OF THE WORST

Everyone has that one memorable moment in high school that they'll never forget. And, everyone has a time they would prefer not to have ever happened.

That trigonometry class that gave you a pain, but you still managed to pass. All those minutes wasted between classes because the freshmen didn't know where to go and you had to wait behind them until they decided on some direction.

Some of the more unforgettable moments in high school are shared by some of our unforgettable seniors. "Having to read 'Watership Down' and 'The Grapes of Wrath'" said Ben Ahlvers and Harold Vincent.

The 5th and 6th hour vocational graphic arts students decided that they really missed having a smoking area.

"Term papers and senior English class," stated Rob Davidson.

"The thing I disliked most about high school is having to attend classes when it's scorching hot outside," remarked Jeff Smith.

Chris Manners said, "I'd rather be listening to music."

Charlene Wheeler stated, "The tardy policy and other rules that we must follow."

"What I hated about high school . . . No, nothing. It's more like what I liked about high school," replied Brandi Diak.

Good or bad, pleasant experience or totally bogus, it's only here for four years. You have to rest of your life to do what you want to do. Have fun in high school, enjoy your classes, make friends, and always have good thoughts of these totally memorable days.

LOOK OUT FOR THE LITTLE PEOPLE . . . THEY'RE BACK

Each year brings a new generation of little people. These are the inevitable freshmen. Along with them come their habits and elementary ways. When seniors were asked what they thought they would like to change with the freshmen, their answers varied. They ranged from 'being too short,' to 'have some growing up to do.' Here are some of their responses to the question, "What little thing bothers you about freshmen?"

"They stand in the middle of the hall," Brandie Greco — "How short they are. They look like second graders," Denise Harper — "When they play with the bees in the trash cans," Cheryl Schmidt — "They are so exceedingly happy at 8:00 in the morning," Vanessa Westbrook — "They are all lost," Gerlean Parker — "They are too short and walk too slow," Bob Habermehl — "They think they know so much," Adam Boker — "They are loud and they always bug you," Nicole Bloodworth — "They behave immaturity and are loud at all the wrong times," Matt Yates.

Assistant Principal Kennerly was Mr. Kennerly the teacher
 Michael Jackson's Thriller was the number one selling album.
 Principal Painter was Mr. Painter the math teacher.
 Campus was open.
 The seniors looked so BIG!
 Mom and Dad had to take you everywhere.
 There was a smoking area.
 Our freshman year was delayed by a teacher's strike.
 May Carousel was May Day.
 G. C. H. S. was South and B. A. C. was North.
 P. E. uniforms were polyester.
 You thought you'd never find your way around high school.
 Atari was popular.
 Parachute pants were what everyone wore.
 You were nervous about your first school dance.
 You had to take showers in your P. E. classes.
 Purple nikes were perfect.
 Only the popular kids were patrol girls and boys.
 There weren't any monitors.

GOLDEN OLDIES AND GOLDEN DAYS

Remember bands like Hall and Oats, Air Supply, Styx, and the Go-Go's? Most people probably forgot all about these bands from the early eighties. Everyone has heard of "Oldies but Goodies," and most seniors remember some special older song they heard and have never forgotten.

Usually this song brings back memories of where you were and who you were with. It may have been a song from your early childhood or one you heard in junior high school. No matter where or when, it's with you forever.

Most of these old songs came out while you were in grade school. These songs can bring back many memories of skating or slumber parties and even of some former boyfriend or girlfriend.

Dave Ezell can remember when he went to school skating parties and listening to Joan Jett's "I Love Rock-N-Roll." Lance Faraone said, "Rock of Ages, by Def Leppard was my favorite song from grade school."

Songs like "Thriller" "Celebration" and "We are the World" were my favorite songs. Other memories from grade school were the skating parties and field trips," stated Robin Deshasier.

Music influenced our dress too. Madonna gave us the punk look with black mesh and neon colors. Michael Jackson gave us the black and bad. We all wanted a white sequenced glove and a red leather jacket with many zippers.

Shanna Cavins said, "When I was younger, I idolized Olivia Newton-John. I tried to talk like her and act out her movies such as "Grease." I even tried to dress like her."

Cleaning out that closet may be a chore, but see if there are any records or tapes for you to play and bring back some of those memorable moments from your younger days.

THINGS THAT MAKE YOU GO HMMM . . .

Everyone has an addiction . . . something they enjoy doing over and over. Some people smoke or drink can after can of diet cola.

Another addiction is to gossip. It can be heard everywhere and seen on graffiti around the school or anywhere in Granite City.

Most gossip is spread because one person is upset at another. If your best friend goes out with your girlfriend or boyfriend, what usually happens? You end up talking to someone about it, and that person tells someone else, and so on, and so on.

John Logan likes to "talk about what happens on weekends." "I gossip about anything. If it sounds good I'll talk about it," says Gretchen Schuler.

Shawn Martin gossips about "weekend activity and always brags about his girlfriend."

"I like to talk about the great times that I've had in school with my friends," remarked Sam Fowler.

Nikki Blodworth, Sally Brown, Julie Pinkley, and Heather Hays said that they "love to gossip about guys."

Different students react differently about hearing rumors about them. Some don't care at all, because they know it isn't true, and others take it more personally.

Once you actually realize the impact of spreading scandalous rumors, you may want to think twice. The next time you get an urge to stir up some hot gossip, remember it could end up hurting you.

SMALL TOWN SATURDAY NIGHT

If you listen to KIX or WIL on the radio, you've probably heard some of the lines from "Small Town Saturday Night." It goes something like this:

"Bobby told Lucy the world ain't round, drops off sharp at the edge of town. Lucy you know the world must be flat, 'cause when people leave town they never come back."

If the students of GCHS were asked about living in Granite City or leaving after graduation, what would they say? Would many want to leave this small town, or would most want to continue living here?

Dana Bugnitz said, "I would like to continue my life in St. Louis, because of better and closer job opportunities. It is also closer to my family and friends."

"I want to move out of Granite City because I want to live in a city with a cleaner environment for me and my family," stated Julie Pinkley.

Rhonda Legate plans to "move to the Norfolk, Virginia area where my husband is stationed in the Navy."

A small industrial town may not be everyone's Camelot, but it's 'home' to many of the students questioned and will always remain that way.

Matt Crider said, "I want to live in Granite City so I can stay and watch the success of the Warrior soccer team."

"I want to stay and live in Granite City so my children can experience the same exciting school I went to," stated Scott Young.

Many seniors responded they would leave Granite City, but had no idea where they would go. These young people eventually find their way back here, because they realize Granite City isn't as bad as they thought. Their hometown ends up to be a place of comfort, friends, and familiar surroundings. It was home for 18 years, and it's good enough to be home for another 18, and another 18, etc.

YOU DRIVE ME CRAZY

By the time a student reaches his/her junior year, everyone will have taken driver's education. This is an exciting time in your life. You finally have the freedom to put that key in the ignition and actually drive somewhere other than up and down your driveway.

Contrary to popular belief, the road to obtaining your driver's license is not all that easy. First you have driver's safety-the book part of the test. Then the real excitement comes.

You move on to driver's training. In this part of the course you'll be driving with fellow students and Ronald Dillard, Gale Garbe, Don Miller, John Modica, Harold Price, or Robert Stegemeier as driving instructor.

Now the day comes when you hear on the PA announcements, "Attention all students enrolled in driver's training last nine weeks. Blue slips are in!" Frantically you rush to the main office to pick it up. Soon you'll have that little plastic card in your hand- your ticket to freedom.

LOOKING BACK IN TIME

When a student reaches their junior year, one class they must take is American history. This class is required for all eleventh graders and consists of two semesters. You learn about the triumphs and battles of our forefathers.

There is a great deal of book work involved, but there is a large amount of learning that comes out of it. Some teachers try to use group projects, debates in which the entire class participates, and oral reports.

To supplement this interest, the students enrolled in accelerated classes are required to write a term paper each semester.

American History is an interesting class that also lets students compare situations which occurred hundreds of years ago with our lives today.

The teachers responsible for this learning are Harry Cook, Phil Shatto, David Ames, Ralph Barker, Eugene Gunderson, Gary Kasporvich, Stan Kowalewich, Donald Shaffner and Stanley Wojcik.

TIME TO REST AND RELAX

If you asked 100 teenagers what their least favorite day of the week was, most would say, "Monday."

Students start their weekend at 3:07 on Friday and don't stop relaxing until Sunday night when they realize one of their teachers assigned 90 pages to read for Monday.

A really good weekend usually consists of shopping, eating, talking on the phone, and watching movies with friends.

The weekend should be for catching up on school talk from the previous week with friends, but it should also be a time for getting a little rest and spending time with your family.

Five days is enough time to do your best in class, get the house a total wreck, and lose touch with friends.

Is two days long enough to get yourself together after all of that? Probably not . . . but try anyway.

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL

If students were to ask their parents what they did for entertainment when they were juniors, they would probably say, (1) go to a movie, (2) walk to the Dairy Queen, (3) attend Teen Town, (4) just walk up and down Madison Avenue.

Movies cost an hour's worth of work today, and driving to the Dairy Queen replaced 'feet.' Times have changed . . . maybe for the better . . . maybe not.

Of course there are students who go against the trend. Such is the case of the minority of juniors who study on weekends instead of going to the mall or cruising around Granite City in their customized car.

A few also prefer to stay at home with their family as an alternative to shopping or going to a movie. This gives them a chance to just relax and catch up on the latest family talk. It's a time to relax and just be with family and friends.

No matter what the decision is for weekend entertainment, the juniors always find ways to let the good times roll.

COMING TO AMERICA

Your high school career is a very exciting and challenging time. For an exchange student, this experience is even more exciting.

An exchange student may face many problems when first coming to America. The biggest being culture shock. This is when you are in a foreign country and you experience things different than what you're used to. This includes customs, food, and general living conditions.

Our foreign exchange student this year from Granite City High School is junior Donna Delay. She is currently studying in Mjølby, Sweden. She likes the idea of being a foreign exchange student in her junior year. Then she will return to GCHS and go through all the fun experiences of being a senior.

Our exchange students staying in Granite City this year are Elisa Laakso, Rodrigo Izaguires, and Juliana Pinho.

Elisa is from Finland. When asked what she thinks of America, Elisa replied, "I like being here. The people are friendly. I don't want to go back yet."

Rodrigo is from Mexico. Rodrigo stated that when he got here, "The girls were scary to me, but pretty." He also said, "I like all of my classes."

Julian came to Granite City from Brazil, and is enjoying her time in Granite City and America.

ALL THOSE NASTY RUMORS

It happens to everyone when they least expect it. That awful day when you discover someone heard something about someone and your best friend stops talking to you because she heard that . . .

Even the sweetest, friendliest person (like that girl who doesn't know your name, but smiles and says "hi" to you anyway) will find themselves stuck in a soap opera-like situation because of one simple problem.

Rumors. No one knows who starts them or why, but they can cause many problems in the teen years. Chris McCulla feels that "rumors are bad for your reputation."

Mark Thornsberry says, "Rumors are destructive. Ninety-percent of them hurt other people." "If people would realize that rumors not only hurt other people, but also themselves, they might think twice before repeating untruths," replies John Bloome and David Klee.

No one can stay away from this sort of problem, especially during these years, but it never hurts to remember what your mother told you in years gone by . . . "What goes around comes around."

MAKE EARTH DAY EVERY DAY

The environment is a very important social issue today. From the hole in the ozone to the extinction of animals, our world is dying faster than we can control it. But what can we, as teenagers, do to help save our planet?

Some students are doing their part by recycling aluminum cans and glass bottles, and doing little things like using pump hairspray or going for the natural look and not wearing any at all.

Others are going as far as using recycled paper for all their schoolwork and also help in the recycling of their own paper products.

Some students were asked what they do to help the environment. "I use pump hairspray," stated Lisa Fernandez. Allison Hatcher replies, "I take notes on recycled paper." Dave Klee, "always recycles cans" and Jackie Bukovac, "stays away from all aerosol products." Terry Prather simply states, "I don't litter."

Everyone should have a part in saving our world. Are you doing anything about it?

LOOKING FOR THE RIGHT PERSON

During the junior year, most students try to find themselves a steady girlfriend or boyfriend. Sometimes this happens and sometimes it doesn't. So, where do juniors go to find that special someone?

Some places where you could meet girls/boys is a mall area, movie theatre, tennis court, swimming pool, or just driving around.

When school begins, juniors have the chance to get involved in school activities and meet other students at sporting events or club meetings.

They could also meet in the hallways or the cafeteria. Just be nice and say 'hi' to someone you would like to meet and they just might respond with 'hello.'

Don't get discouraged. Remember that next year is your senior year and you have plenty of time to find that special 'bo' or 'little lady.'

WHY DID I DO THAT?

Watch out! Be carefull Crash! These are some sounds that can be heard when an accident prone person is in the area. Some people can go most of their teenage life without one embarrassing thing happening to them. Then there are the unfortunate ones who can't go a complete school day without falling up the stairs. These people can usually be seen on rainy days either slipping in a puddle, or with mud up to their ankles.

It's sometimes obvious who's suave and who's the clutz — sometimes not. Answer these questions to determine whether you're really smooth or a clutz in disguise.

1. What happens when your 'sweetie' walks by? (a) Stare so long that you don't notice the wall in front of you. (b) Casually say 'hi' and keep walking.

2. Your name is yelled out and you ... (a) Turn so fast that you hit someone in the stomach with you're book bag. (b) Close your locker door and walk over to talk.

How did you answer? Are you a clutz? If you answered 'B', you're probably a pretty casual, relaxed individual. If 'A' was your choice, calm down and just take it easy. And always watch what's in front of you.

SHOUT IT OUT

What was that outrageous sound? What about that high-pitched intense roar resounding through the football field?

Could it have been the juniors in the crowd? Yes. It was GCHS juniors showing they have as much spirit as the seniors. It was their yelling, shouting, and chanting that got everyone's attention. It was that incredible bellow that pounded through the ears of everyone in attendance and exited their very soul.

As the clock at the football game ticked down to only a few seconds the roar increased in volume to nothing short of an outright uproar. Banners of red and black overwhelmed the onlookers as our Warrior football team had another victorious game.

Where did all this spirit come from? It's been building for three years when these wild and spirited juniors were mere ninth-graders. It's had three years to make these juniors the spirited clad students they are today.

What will happen next year when these young ladies and gentlemen reach to top position at their school. It will only get better, louder, and more intense.

ONE MORE YEAR

GIRLS JUST WANT TO HAVE FUN

To what color do many girls change their hair. The answer is usually "blonde". But, there are quite a few brunettes and red-haired girls that say they "have more fun." They say, "I like to be a brunette and blonds aren't the only ones who have a good time."

Why do blonds get thought of as being fun-loving girls? Maybe because of a stereotype image from old movie days. Blonds projected a certain image in certain movies in 'years gone by.' Numerous young girls all wanted to be like their blond movie star idols.

If the facts are known, blonds, brunettes, red-haired, and black-haired girls are equally intelligent, pretty, and spirited. No matter what color, girls just want to have fun.

HOMWORK AND WEEKENDS

How many students actually go home on a Friday and do their homework? Students usually stash the books away and anything that reminds them of school for the next two days. Going out on a Friday or Saturday night is a normal routine for a teenager at Granite City High School.

To even think of doing homework on a Friday or Saturday would be far fetched for some students. Sarah Turck says, "I usually do my homework on Sunday night, at about 10:00." Parties at friends houses, going to sports activities, cruisin' the town are some of the main objectives for an awesome weekend.

Weekends end up to be a time for students to forget about all of the stressful moments endured the previous week. Some students' thoughts on weekend activities are, "Just hanging out with a bunch of good friends," "Being with my boyfriend/girlfriend," and "Shopping until I drop."

It's not important what you do. But whatever you choose to do, have fun and remember how important your school studies are to you.

The routine starts over and over each Monday. So wake up and get ready for the "pop quiz" that will begin your Monday morning, and Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

TOO MANY DETAILS

Picture yourself sitting in your room, surrounded by bags of potato chips, soda cans, smashed Ding-Dongs, and of course your books. This is a normal description of students before a test.

Cramming for a test may consist of staying up until early hours of the morning, trying to cram the facts in your head, or loading up on caffeine in order to stay awake.

There are advantages to this technique and there are just as many disadvantages. A good point is that you might just pass the test. Even though you worked all night, you passed.

A disadvantage of cramming is that you have no long-term memory of what you just studied. You may be passing tests, but not remembering anything . . . and that's not the purpose of the class.

Having many classes may mean having two or three tests on the same day. How long will you be up studying? If you start studying something every night, it all comes together the night of the test.

MY BEST FRIEND AND PAL

They loaned you their last buck, gave you a lift, and let you copy their notes. Going beyond the call of duty, these bosom buddies always went the extra mile to help you. They are your best friends.

These friends usually gave you advice and were always there when you needed them. You could tell them everything. You could talk about your most embarrassing moment, childhood days, your dreams and anticipations, and many other things you wouldn't tell anyone else. They were friends you could count on and they always put you first. They did this because they liked you and made your needs as significant as their own.

Lisa Buske says about bosom buddy Jill Haddix, "When Jill tripped in the hallway and hurt her knee, I helped her. She's my good friend."

Sometimes you don't have just one buddy, you can have many. The advantage of this is that you hear, talk, and say twice as much.

Debbie Engelke, Jennifer Wojtowicz, Jenny Schwager, Kelly Mullen, Becky McArthur, and Amy Gebhardt agree with this and add, "We can talk about anything and everything."

Whether they travel in pairs or in packs, your bosom buddies will always be there to hear about your bad day or adventurous weekend. They are never too busy to lend a hand or an ear. They're your friends — your bosom buddies.

LONG BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Have you ever noticed how some students have hair that doesn't move in the wind? Some of the products used to achieve this effect are mousse, mega gel, styling spritz, and super hold hair spray. Styles and trends make people put sticky and gooey stuff in their hair. With every change in hair style new hair products evolve.

Where would we be without hairspray? The ever-lasting, super-hold spray that plasters hair down, (or up) for days. Lisa Buske said, "Without hairspray, I probably would be lost. Every morning, except when I get up late, I use hairspray. It may not be much, but I do use it."

How long does it take for a person to apply these products? Depending on what kind of affect you may want, it takes approximately 15-20 minutes. Usually, people say it takes more time for a girl to get ready than a boy. Kami Kessel says, "I think it takes longer for a girl to do her hair, because usually guys don't curl their hair, but you can never tell!"

Going through this process takes time and it is necessary to get up extra early to look just perfect. Some students say that they go through this "to look good and try to impress people." Others comments say, "I think my hair looks good this way," "to look nice," and "to look different."

Whatever style you want, or how much spray you apply, you do it for a purpose. If your hair is too high or flat you know you can always do something about it. It just takes time.

SHORT BUT SWEET

They are short and easy to remember. They were given to you at a young age. They're your nicknames. Maybe you were in the second grade and someone started calling you a little name other than your own. Maybe your mom gave you an abbreviated name, or maybe you chose it yourself. However it's with you throughout grade school and high school.

People get their nicknames from comic strips, cartoons, Disney characters, animals, or even from their own name. Most people don't mind having two first names. William doesn't mind being called Willie and Robert doesn't mind Bobbie. Anthony is Tony, James is Jimmy, and Edward is good 'ol Eddie.

Emily Bridges says, "My friends call me 'Odie' because they say my eyes and neck look like his." Sean Lakotas adds, "People call me Sha Babe just because."

No matter where it came from, your nickname will stay with you the rest of your life.

YOU ARE SO BEAUTIFUL TO ME

Does he realize I'm alive? Did she see me make that awesome goal? I wonder if he saw my new outfit? These are many questions that puzzle the minds of teenagers.

When you see that special someone walk down the hall, your heart begins to beat faster, your hands start to sweat, and you don't know whether to say something. When he starts to talk to you, you really get nervous. You don't want to come out and ask him to accompany you Friday night, but you want to go somewhere with him.

Finally, after many nights thinking and dreaming about that "special person," he asks you to the biggest dance. Trying not to scream, and yell, you accept.

Great anticipation, dressing that special way, and hopes of having fun are some of the thoughts of your first date. When that big time arrives it takes all day to get dressed in the outfit. Looking your best is the number one priority.

When you finally start talking and feeling comfortable, the energy starts to flow a little bit better. Hoping that nothing will interfere or go wrong, you anticipate a wonderful evening. But it doesn't always happen that way. An embarrassing moment for Jill Haddix was when "The two of us went to the movies to see a PG-13 movie, and we could not get in."

Even though sometimes everything doesn't run as smoothly as you would like it to, you ignore it and continue trying to have a good time. Angie White remembers when "We went to the movies and I spilled my soda all over my date."

How do you ignore all these embarrassing happenings? All you have to do is remember you are with that 'one and only' person and everything seems to get better.

Just remember — you could be home watching television or just sitting around doing nothing, but instead, you are with that special someone you've dreamed about all year.

DOING IT AGAIN AND AGAIN

You're sitting in study hall reading when all of a sudden you hear a repeated popping noise. You look forward, backward, and on both of your sides but you still cannot find where the annoying noise is coming from. Finally you spot the person who is habitually popping their Bubble Yum bubble gum and you don't know what to do. You have two options. One: you can ask the person to please stop or two: put up with their annoying habit until the end of the hour.

Whatever you may choose to do, there are still other people with their own habits happening that minute.

Emily Bridges says, "I bite my toenails," and Kami Kessle adds, "I pop my knuckles constantly."

There are also many unique habits that people have carried with them through the years.

Becky McArthur says, "When I eat, I use all five of my fingers," and Donald Murphy adds, "I drink milk all of the time. I drink at least five cartons at lunch." When asked how much milk he drinks at home in a night, Donald said, "A lot."

There are many types of habits but sometimes it is unknown how or why they began. Some are caused from nervous tension and others are caused from anticipation.

Remember waiting for your first date to arrive? Or how about that big exam in American Literature you were dreading? Many fingernails were being bitten at these unpredictable moments.

Whether it be a scary, suspenseful movie, a late ride to school, or just a perfectly normal situation, habits are brought out in our everyday lives. And, these habits will stay with us until we decide we no longer want to tolerate them.

GROUPING IT ALL TOGETHER

They are places you never really pay attention to, places you wish never existed, and places you can definitely call your worst nightmare. They are disaster areas and they are owned by you.

The question is "Where are these disaster areas and what do they consist of?" Many disasters occur in bedrooms, and lockers at school. Some may be secretly hidden in closets. These are the worst kind because they are made up of anything and everything. Most disaster areas consist mainly of old items you have collected over the years or new items you don't have any other place to put.

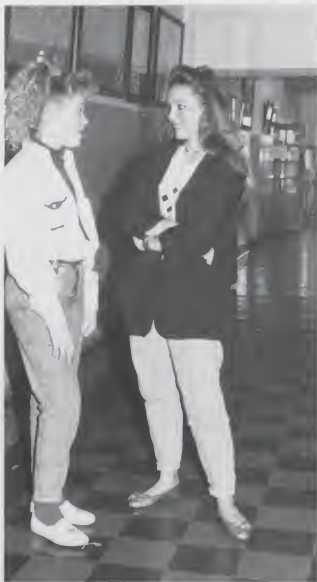

Disaster bedrooms mainly consist of scattered clothes, shoes, unprepared beds, textbooks, school notes from your friend, and many other odds and ends. Matt Noffsinger says, "My bedroom is like a disaster area of all sorts. It looks like a tornado came through and demolished it."

A disaster locker may consist of your school books, friends' forgotten school books, magazines, candy, lunches, P.E. clothes, sports bags, McDonalds, mirrors, hair accessories, three ringed notebooks, coats, poster clippings of your dream guy or girl, graffiti from that certain person that signed your locker in '74', and the frame of bubble gum that outlines the inside of your locker. Jayme Duckworth says, "My locker has a lot of my other friends' books and junk in it. Also I have other things that preoccupy my locker that I am not quite sure of."

The last disaster area is that closed up, secret place called a closet. There are not enough words to express the varied objects that are thrown into these secluded spots. Chuck Noud says, "My closet is filled with anything and everything. I don't even remember what I throw in there sometimes."

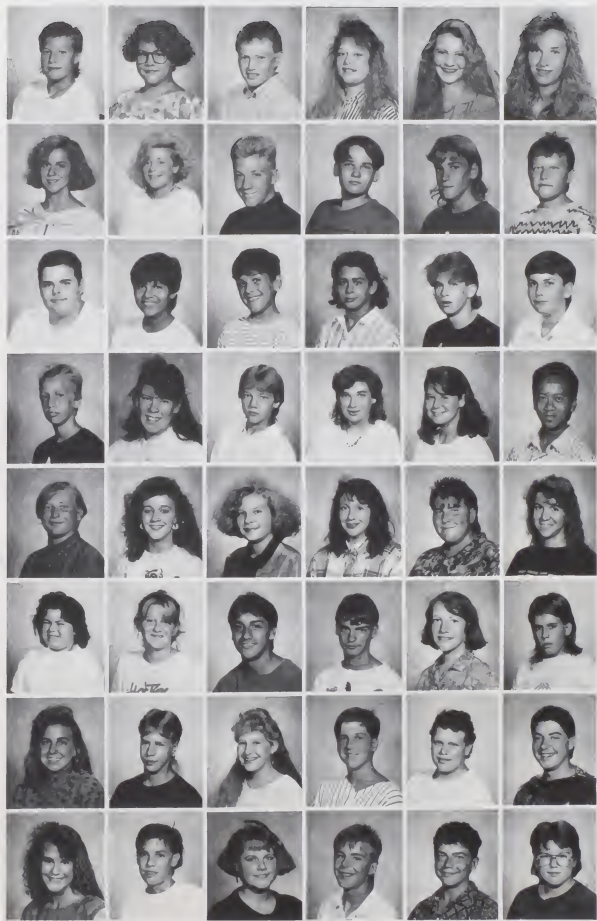

"Why do these areas exist?" Many students cannot answer this question. All they can hope for is that the areas will be miraculously cleaned up by themselves or by that special someone who is very gullible. If this does not happen, these areas will multiply. Bedrooms, lockers, and closets all across Granite City will be doomed forever.

BODY TALK

Health is a required course for freshmen at GCHS. It takes the place of one semester of physical education. Health is an important subject everyone can relate to. In this class, students discover new things about their body.

Leonard Lybarger, Greg Patton, and Bryan Wilkinson are the teachers for the course. They make what may be a boring subject fun and interesting to learn by presenting the materials in unique ways.

That's because these three men are so unique themselves. They all have interests besides health. Mr. Lybarger has a passion for motorcycles, Mr. Patton is the athletic director for the school, and Mr. Wilkinson knows the location of every golf course in the USA.

The students study many aspects of the human body including body growth and development, body dynamics, and mental health. Emergency first aid is studied, and also students learn CPR.

ALPHA peer leaders present programs to the freshmen that caution them of the dangers of substance abuse. Students find the information useful and very helpful. Most freshmen learn something new every day.

DON'T JUST SIT AROUND

When entering high school everyone says that you should be active in sports, clubs, and other school function. Since these are the best years of your life, don't let them go to waste. These statements are always told to students who enter into their high school days.

There are so many things to do in high school. There are clubs to join, sports to play, and after school activities. Participating in some of these events can make your years at high school exciting, fulfilling, and fly by.

There are all kinds of sports and clubs. If you are an athlete, there are numerous sports to play. If you are a scholar, join one of the clubs. Or if you have a specific hobby, join a club to enhance your interest.

No matter what you are interested in, there is something to fulfill your interests at GCHS. There's something for everyone here... all you have to do is ask and look... and join.

THE LOWER FORM OF LIFE

After eight years of school you finally achieve the top spot at junior high school, then you are moved to the big high school. All at once, you are no longer the oldest in school and the most important. You are now not even important enough to ignore.

Think back to that first week of school. That was the week when seniors, juniors, and sophomores were asked to help the ninth-graders around school. They were supposed to help get them to class on time, answer significant questions, and be nice to the little people.

Most of the time that was the case, but there were several occasions when freshmen were the subject of some simple practical jokes.

Brian Schooley remembers that "I got my books knocked out of my hands because one kid hit another and blamed it on me."

Michelle Callender recalls an embarrassing moment, "A guy came up to me in the hall and put his arm around me and asked me where I had been all his life. I was totally embarrassed."

To avoid these hassles, a freshman could wear clothes that make them look older, be watchful of who they talk to, and don't hang around the lockers, for fear of being stuffed into one.

Suggested other ways to avoid these miserable days are finding some nice upperclassmen who will, for whatever reason, hang around with you, make sure to make way for any senior in the hallway or lunch line, and hope that the year goes by quickly. You'll survive and soon become a sophomore.

WE ALL RIDE IN A YELLOW LIMO BUS

Most freshmen dread their first day of high school. They're afraid of getting lost, having the toughest teachers in the school, and not having friends in lunch. But many dread something even more—the thought of getting up extra early to ride the yellow school bus.

Not everyone is fortunate enough to have a ride to school, or live within walking distance. Some freshmen have to wake up early, walk to the bus stop, and wait for the bus to arrive.

Some students enjoy riding the bus. Amanda Pond says that the bus is her only place to think.

Shelley Dressel remembers when "I was getting on the bus once, my shoe fell off. It was really embarrassing."

John Hensley remembers riding the bus his freshmen year, "I liked my bus driver and the other students on the bus were very nice." He still rides the bus to school today.

Bradley Millikin has ridden the bus to school during all four years of high school. "I like the bus, and I don't mind getting up early to ride it," says Brad.

Some students are not lucky enough to ride in the multi-seated vehicle. They have to resort to finding other methods of getting to school. Some of the methods include 'their feet', 'their mom', 'their neighbor's mom', 'their bicycle', or even 'riding with their senior sibling'.

Although riding the bus may seem like one of the most unbearable things one has to endure in high school, remember being a freshman only lasts a year and things can only get better.

SENIOR ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

After three years of being in high school, seniors are gifted with a special knowledge of the teachers, classes, and of students. Some seniors set aside their general dislike for freshmen and share some general information.

Some advice given to freshmen by seniors includes get involved in school, don't be shy and make friends, don't say you hate John Wayne in front of Mr. Reh, and to take civics the summer before your senior year.

Other advice is don't carry more than two books at a time, give the upperclassmen what they want, don't get into fights, and remember high school is important.

This advice may be helpful in surviving your next four years at GCHS. By the time you become a senior, you'll have your own advice to give freshmen.

A TIME TO DREAM

Day dreaming is one of the few ways that help pass the time in long boring situations that you dread being in. It can be considered your own personal form of escape. No one can stop you from doing it, not your teacher, and not your parents.

Some people daydream because they are truly excited about an upcoming event, or can't help but remembering a special time in their lives.

Beware though, daydreaming can get you into trouble at school, and at home. Daydreaming can make you totally oblivious to what is going on around you. If you daydream in class, this can cause problems.

While you imagine speeding down the highway in your red porsche convertible, you are rudely interrupted by your teacher asking once again, "Does that poem contain rhythm or rhyme?" You struggle to remember what class you are in, and take a guess. The teacher's icy stare tells you that you are wrong.

Another example is when your parents are giving the longest lecture on curfews known to man. You have heard it all before and slowly slip away into your own little world. You think about your date for Friday night. You hear the tone of your father's voice get louder and you snap out of the dream just in time to hear, "So what do you think about that?" You take a chance and answer yes, not knowing what the question was. Little do you know, you just agreed to baby sit for your little sister on Friday night.

When asked about daydreams Ben Halderman says, "I daydream about going to a Metallica concert." When asked about what you daydream about, could you give an answer, or is it something you would rather keep to yourself?

DO THE RIGHT THING

When you thought about coming to high school, were you worried about what you should wear? Did you just want to blend in and avoid being teased? Were you interested in creating your own style, and being your own person? The people who set the trends in junior high now follow them in high school.

Freshman fashion is the question. Comfortable, oversized clothing is the answer. This year we have discovered that comfort takes the gold medal where clothing is concerned.

Amanda Pond confesses, "I wear jeans and sweatshirts. I don't think you need to dress up for school."

Kevin Lee says, "Loose fitting comfortable clothes are for me. I have my own style."

Nicole Beckley believes, "Baggy but stylish is the way to go."

Emily Kirkpatrick says, "I like anything that does not make a spectacle of myself."

"I like dressy clothes that make a statement," states Brian Schooley.

Sara Loftus believes, "Boxers and anything with Mickey Mouse on it are in."

Rick Lamb simply states, "Loose."

Mike Kaminski confesses, "I wear clothes simply because they are comfortable."

Mindy Trueblood says, "The clothes I wear are in style."

THROUGH THE YEARS

Throughout your years at GCHS, we meet many different types of individuals ... all from different backgrounds. We make friends with them and share our experiences and daily routines.

Just last year when we were at junior high, it was as though we knew everyone. Now we're at the high school and there are so many strange and unfamiliar faces ... students we've never seen before or met.

It's a new experience for us. It's a time to learn from each other and share with each other. It's a time to both rejoice and be sad ... cheer when we have a football victory and cry when we think about graduation four years from now.

Our ninth-grade year at GCHS gives us the opportunity to meet many students and shows us how unique this school is and how unique each individual is ... it's a good learning year.

NEW FACES - NEW PLACES

Because of the small size of the junior high schools, students were almost guaranteed to have their friends in class. High school is much larger and there is a greater chance that a student may not know anyone in his class. This situation is new for freshmen and therefore brings about some changes for them.

A freshman may have a schedule that doesn't permit him to see his friends as much or at all. This may cause the friendships to weaken and possibly end. Some call it growing apart.

The students make new friends in their classes to take the place of old friends that they don't see as much. In some cases the old friends just disappear and make new friends, but sometimes nothing changes. They still find time to talk to each other and do things together.

Dealing with these changes in high school are all a part of growing up. The friendships made here are the friendships that last.

GIVE US A BREAK

As you sprint down the hall, the tardy bell rings and you realize that this will be your fourth tardy. What believable excuse can you think of now? You try to remember some of those clever excuses you have witnessed seniors using when they are late.

Some excuses commonly used by freshmen to avoid being marked tardy are: my locker is on the other side of the building, there was a traffic jam in the hallway, I was finishing a test, and my locker wouldn't open. Other excuses are: there was a fight and I couldn't get through the hallway, I grabbed the wrong book and had to go back. I think the bells are early, and I went to the wrong class.

Some freshmen aren't as clever as others. They try to think of an excuse that the teachers might believe and come up with nothing. They then resort to making up an off the wall excuse. The result is inevitable, the teachers hands you the yellow slip for a detention.

Some of the excuses used by freshmen that are not successful in avoiding being marked tardy are: my feet wouldn't move any faster, an upperclassmen was picking on me, I had to direct a senior to his class, I couldn't find my locker, and some kid got sick and everyone crowded around him in the hall. Other unsuccessful excuses are: I thought last hour was seventh hour, my lock was stuck, and I was helping an old lady across the hall.

SCHOOLS

Our Superintendent of Schools is Mr. Gilbert V. Walmsley. Mr. Walmsley has been associated with the Granite City school system since 1963 when he left teaching in St. Louis to come here as an instructor in the industrial arts and driver education.

Besides being an instructor in industrial arts and driver education, he was a former guidance counselor and assistant principal at the high school. In 1970, he became principal of Prather Junior High School. In 1972, he was named principal of Granite City High School-North, serving in that position for 10 years.

In 1983 when the high schools were combined, he became principal of Granite City High School. He served as principal of the combined high schools until being appointed Superintendent of Schools-District #9 in 1986.

Mr. Walmsley graduated from East Alton-Wood River High School. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Industrial Arts and Safety Education from Southern Illinois University/Carbondale. A Master's Degree in School Administration and Guidance, and an Educational Specialist Degree in School Administration from Southern Illinois University/Edwardsville.

LEADING THE WAY

The heart and mind of our successful high school are embodied in the principal, Mr. David Painter. Under his guidance the past two years have been both successful and inspirational to the students.

His vision of better communication and changes in disciplinary actions have continued through his second year of being in charge. During this, the 1991-1992 school year, his ideals have begun to be even more readily implemented. Because he is personal with his students, the behavior of the student body is positive.

The difficulties that Mr. Painter must deal with are tremendous. This is understandable since he is the authority of a school that consists of over 2400 students. As he meets these challenges, he sets the tone for his future years as principal.

Both love and respect for education that a principal must have are exhibited by Mr. Painter. Tirelessly, he puts us in touch with one another to make our school even more successful.

ALLEN KENNERLY

JERRY MCKECHAN

ALLEN AND JERRY

While Mr. David Painter is principal, he alone cannot operate a school of this size. Mr. Painter is the central authority at GCHS and he has the last word on almost everything. However, he has two very important assistant principals to help him do what their title suggest — to assist.

These men are Allen Kennerly and Jerry McKechan. Mr. McKechan handles freshman and sophomore discipline. Seniors are referred to Mr. Kennerly for disciplining. Juniors are handled by Michael Sikora.

Hall attendance, bus passes, ID's, and book rental are all Mr. McKechan's responsibility. He also supervises all detentions.

Mr. Kennerly is responsible for all school records. He makes the master schedule and also students' schedules. Other duties include registration and report cards.

Both assistant principals help with annual teacher evaluations, and represent the school at all extra-curricular activities.

There is never a dull moment in their offices. If they find some spare time, they may walk the halls and help get students to class on time, or possibly get a cup of coffee.

"Each day is interesting. Each day is different. It's still fun coming to school," says Mr. McKechan.

Mr. Kennerly adds, "My job constantly changes as the students change. I get the greatest satisfaction out of graduation and seeing the students succeed."

These two men do many things for GCHS. So, the next time you see one of our assistant principals in the hall, say, "Thanks for doing your part in helping our school."

A SELECT FEW

Many teachers at Granite City High School take an active part in activities outside of their classrooms. They help support this school by sponsoring clubs, attending sporting events, and being at the many activities that GCHS provides for its students.

Showing a true interest in more than just their classrooms shows the students that the teacher is not only an authority figure, but also a caring friend interested in the activities in which their students participate. The students truly appreciate going to school activities and being able to see and talk to teachers outside of the classroom situation.

They enjoy seeing them at sporting events and seeing them in the audience during a play performance. It makes being a student at GCHS a little more special and enjoyable.

GOOD-BYE AND GOOD LUCK

It's time to say "good-bye" to four of our faculty members. Helen Cook, Larry Duckworth, Evelyn Wright, Al Rowden will not be walking through the GCHS doors when school begins in September. They'll be joining a group of special people who now have time to do what they want. They'll be retiring.

Mrs. Cook has been in the school district for 25 years and has no specific plans for the future.

Mr. Duckworth joined the district in 1969 and he also has no retirement plans. He said that he "will decide after I retire."

Mrs. Wright has been a teacher for 29 years, instructing students at GCHS for four years. She taught in both the special education department and the English department for two years each. Evelyn may renew her interest in drawing and painting, and may bring her pilot's license up to date.

Mr. Rowden had been with the Granite City schools for 33 years and plans to "take it easy and travel next year and the years thereafter."

Even though the time has come to say farewell to these teachers, it doesn't mean they are no longer welcome at the high school. Please return to visit and tell of your many new experiences and adventures.

HARRY AND MICKEY AND WALTER AND HARLEY

Many students in GCHS have their own unique style of dress and way of life. Teachers also have their own style. Their classrooms reflect their different personalities and characters. Some rooms are very colorful and some plain and simple.

Why do teachers improve their rooms and desks like they do? Many do it just for looks, and others do it just to make their classrooms feel like home.

Stanley's classroom and desk is covered with football stickers and posters. Shannon's room shows how math can be interesting by displaying all types of educational posters.

Deborah, Janet, Dennis, and Earl help students learn a foreign language and share the environment of the country with their students. Their classrooms are full of artifacts from Mexico, Spain, and Germany.

Gary and Harry display historical posters and photos of past presidents. Lenny's room reflects his love of horses and cycles; and Mickey, Minnie, Goofy, and Donald are all alive and doing well in Steve's room.

Why do they do this? "According to Walt Disney, everyone is a child at heart. If someone can walk into my rooms and leave a little of the anxiety, frustrations, or pressure on the outside — so much the better," says Steve Hamilton.

"I enjoy teaching the Illinois history class because it gives me the chance to cover a lot of topics not ordinarily covered in the typical American history class. Hopefully, students gain a real appreciation of their state's heritage and contributions," states Gary Kasproovich.

"I like memorabilia of past presidents, and students think I was named after Harry Truman," concludes Harry Cook.

With all their posters, stickers, and pictures, the faculty members of this building hope to make it as enjoyable for the students to be in their rooms as it is for the faculty members to be teaching them.

SPOTLIGHT TEACHER RICHARD BERTACCHI

RICHARD, RICHARD — HE'S OUR MAN

Mr. Bertacchi was chosen as the 1992 spotlight teacher. Because of his humor, intelligence, and honest love of English, the interest he shows in his classes never ends.

His career in education began at Coolidge Junior High School where he taught for several years. Then he moved to GCHS/North. When North High School closed, he moved to his present position.

This is his 27th year with our school district. He teaches literature classes to students from all four grade levels.

His most unique class is Junior Honors English. This class is offered to juniors in the honors program. Currently JHE is only taught by Mr. Bertacchi, and the works of literature are hand picked by him.

When asked how he keeps his classes interesting, he replied, "You have to like the material you're teaching and I do, because I chose the books I like personally."

Mr. Bertacchi's love of English comes from the magic that happens when words are put together to express a feeling. There is nothing that can match good literature.

Students that have had the pleasure to experience his 'masterful presentations' are familiar with Mr. Bertacchi's favorite expressions: 'That's cute!', 'Go rub your nose on the concrete!', 'He got the Berjabs beat out of him', and 'This is my favorite book in the whole world.'

"I enjoy teaching because I want to share my love of literature and language. If I can influence a student to appreciate and enjoy reading and writing, I feel that I have added something important to his life."

Through his dedication, thoughtfulness and understanding Mr. Bertacchi is truly the spotlight teacher of 1992.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS

Students listen to the morning announcements and ten valuable ladies prepare themselves for the workday that lies ahead.

A secretary's work day consists of many essential duties including record keeping, payroll, federal and required reports. They answer telephones, take care of student attendance, and help with registration. They may also deal with a student's scheduling problem or count book rental money.

The secretaries locations vary just as their duties do. Georganne Georgeff, Gladys Zukas, and Nancy Rosales are located in the main office. Donna Swanson and Kathleen Webb can be found in the registration office while Jane Moore works in the attendance office and Kristen Hamilton works in the guidance office. The ladies of data processing include Pat Uzanoff and Berta Milanis. Kathleen Martinez is also in the main office during the morning hours.

The many hours of typing and paper work done by the secretaries sometimes goes unrecognized. We often pass by their offices without realizing their responsibilities, but without them, the school would not run as smoothly as it does. The secretaries of GCHS are devoted ladies who cause our daily routine to function properly.

THE LADIES OF THE CAFETERIA

Our high school cafeteria workers try hard each day to make lunch special for all of the students. Lunch begins at 10:30 A.M. and continues until 1 P.M. It is the job of the cafeteria workers to make sure there is always a good variety of food for all the lunch hours.

They also make sure everyone is satisfied with everything and that the machines are in good working order.

One of the changes that occurred this year was the serving of Dominos pizza on Monday. Also, new soda machines have been added to the cafeteria area.

Ms. Nancy Wilson is the lead lady. She has held this position for six years and has been at the high school for nine years. She enjoys her work and finds each day a new experience.

Even though lunch time stops by 1 P.M., the cafeteria ladies continue to work and make sure everything is clean, in working order, and ready for the next school day.

Their day is usually over by 2:30. They depart and return the next day to do this all again.

These ladies perform an invaluable service to the school and the students. They are always willing to assist you and wait to serve you everyday.

FOLLOW ME, PLEASE

How many times have you heard this? "Excuse me, where is your pass?" "Can I see your I.D. please?" "Were you smoking?" "C'mon let's take a walk to the office." "Isn't your class the other direction?" "Where are you off to?" "Are you skipping or have you been lost and aimlessly wandering the halls for the last half hour?"

If you've heard one of these famous lines, you've probably come in contact with one of the school monitors. These disciplinary people include Beverly Golden, Donald Gray, Cathy House, Ginny Henson, Connie Paterson, Cliff Gassett, and Ron Spiroff.

You can find them walking the halls and outside. Mrs. Golden is usually located in front of the building, while Mr. Gray is at the front parking lot.

Mrs. House is at the back parking lot, and Mrs. Paterson is located on the Grand Avenue side of the building.

Besides the full-time monitors, our district employs three part-time workers — Mrs. Henson, Mr. Spiroff, and Mr. Gassett. They are usually here during the lunch hours.

With the help of these seven individuals, students are more encouraged to follow the rules. They help with disciplinary problems and have become a working part of the school system.

SPECIAL SERVICES BY CARING PEOPLE

The custodians at Granite City High School have a very hard and tedious job that usually goes unappreciated. No one really understands the heavy work load better than the custodians themselves.

There are two different shifts of custodial work. During the day shift, these gentlemen can be seen keeping the GCHS campus clean-inside and out. The night shift is when they do the unfinished business of the day — cleaning the floors and desks to make sure our school is already for the next day. The final step is during the summer when they thoroughly clean the school and get it ready for another school year.

The lead man who keeps our fine establishment in working order is Mr. C.J. Jones. He is in charge of major repairs, payrolls, ordering necessary supplies, and everything else it takes to keep this school running smoothly.

With the cooperation of our custodians, faculty, and the students, Granite City High School can always be a place that we are proud of and enjoy attending.

SPECIAL PEOPLE - SPECIAL TIMES

At our high school, we have a few special people who help with the handicapped. These ladies and gentlemen work with these students, go to class with them, help explain test questions, and whatever else is necessary to complete a school day.

"It's been a good school year. We have new aides and new children to work with," says Nelda Sanders.

"I try and make life better for the students as much as I can, I also enjoy working with the children. My job is always changing in so many different ways," says Darlene Harrigan.

Sometimes the day is long, but the aides work well together. This always makes the job easier, and the time pass quickly.

"I enjoy the type of work I do. I also like the aides I work with from day to day," says Kevin McBee.

They are an ambitious group of people here for the benefit of the students. They do their best to maintain a good working relationship between themselves, their students, and faculty members. This is not always an easy job, but they seldom complain.

The aides appreciate a good challenge and enjoy trying to achieve it. "Working with young people is always a pleasure," states JoAnn Yurko. That seems to 'sum up' how this group of helping individuals feel about their jobs and their students.

TALK TO US

Each year the student council is selected by the students of GCHS. Anyone who has a 3.0 GPA or better is eligible to run. Twenty-five signatures are necessary to be put on the ballot.

Students who enter student council must be hard working, caring, and able to help with different events throughout the year. They organize the semi-formal dance, music for the cafeteria, homecoming events, Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets, clothing for the needy and student of the month.

Mr. Steve Hamilton is responsible for the success of student council. He has been the sponsor for 13 years, and enjoys his work and participation in group and civic activities.

"Student council consists of a group of kids who are elected by their peers to voice the feelings, cares, concerns, and the needs of the entire student body. Many of these council representatives give, literally, hundreds of hours of their time to aid and benefit the students, faculty, staff and surrounding community. They are a truly dedicated bunch," states Mr. Hamilton.

LOOK AT US

The National Honor Society is a service-oriented organization for students based on leadership, scholarship, character, and service work.

Students selected for membership must have and maintain a 4.25 grade-point average and participate in school and community activities. These qualities are judged by a faculty council. An invitation is sent to qualified students.

Members must earn a certain number of service points to remain an active member of the club. These points can be obtained by participating in activities and club meetings.

They assist in Special Olympics, collect United Way solicitations, babysit for the Parents Plus organization, and many other community and school activities. This year their float won first place in the homecoming parade.

The National Honor Society is sponsored by Mary Perdue-Tapp and Andrew Yurko. They are dedicated, devoted, ambitious, caring, and busy. Somehow they find time for club activities, and still have time to be good teachers and parents.

YOUNG WRITERS

The Young Authors Club is an organization that gathers student writings to evaluate and publish those of merit.

They publish the Student Voice in the spring. The publication is completely devoted to excellence in writing. It includes poems, essays, short stories, plays and some illustrations. The club and English teachers encourage students to submit writings for publication.

Mrs. JoAnn Aleman has been the sponsor for four years. She puts in much time and effort to producing this bright "Young" group.

"The Young Authors Club is a demanding organization, but it is rewarding to see good student writings for the teachers and students alike," says Mrs. Aleman.

GETTING THE SCOOP

The advanced journalism class is a great experience for anyone interested in a future in writing. This class is responsible for publishing and distributing the High World newspaper.

The High World has been printed for 65 years. Mr. Antonio Betancourt has been the sponsor for the past six years.

To become a member of the Betancourt team, a student must have completed a semester of beginning journalism and obtain a permit from Mr. Betancourt. In beginning journalism students publish a Cub Edition of the newspaper. This gives them insight on newspaper publishing. It also prepares them for advanced journalism, if they choose to take the course.

This year's staff consists of 22 members. Mike Chapman and Cori Elmore are the editors-in-chief this year. They were chosen by Mr. Betancourt to manage the newspaper. With the help of Mr. Betancourt, they choose the other editors and reporters. Together they publish the eight-page paper nine times a year, including a special senior edition. It takes a lot of hard work, dedication, and cooperation to publish this paper for the school, and it was all completed with pride.

COMING TOGETHER IN DIFFERENT WAYS

Our high school has a club where students get together to share new languages and discuss their foreign experiences with other students. This club is the foreign language club.

There are many different languages in the world and Granite City High School offers students an opportunity to learn two of them — Spanish and German.

The club gives them the opportunity to learn about cultures and habits of other countries. They do this by exchanging idea and experiences with each other and their sponsor — Mr. Dennis Church.

"The foreign language club is a place where students who are interested in learning about things beyond our boarder," says Mr. Church. As a Spanish teacher and head of the foreign language department, Mr. Church is able to share his valuable experiences with the students in his club.

Students join the club for a variety of reasons. Some of these reasons include their interest in foreign travel, or just being able to communicate with other students who share the same foreign language skill.

The officers in charge of this club are president, Derrick Kingsley; vice president, Carrie Heck; secretary, Danny Pasco, and Brian Welser, treasurer.

THE WORKING GIRLS

Future Secretaries Association is a group of juniors and seniors interested in pursuing a career in the office occupational field. FSA is a professional organization, members dress professionally for all meetings. The members meet on each third Tuesday of each month. During each meeting they have guest speakers discussing information about different business colleges, jobs, and ways to improve their standards. The often center around personal development as well as professional development.

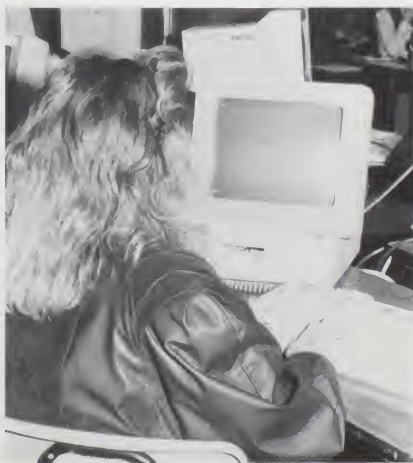

Officers of the Lindberg chapter were duly installed on Tuesday, September 17, 1991. President Karen Odom, Vice President Tara Swalley, Rose Lewis Secretary, Shelle Goodman Treasurer, Gerlean Parker Historian, Jayme Mercer Board Member at Large were installed.

The FSA chapter is sponsored by the Lindbergh chapter for the fourth consecutive year. The advisors this year are Mrs. Haddox and Mrs. Georgeff. Mrs. Haddox has been an advisor for the group since 1975. This year ends Mrs. Georgeff's first year as an advisor. These two ladies were excellent role models. They both have professional business background and both are caring and sharing ladies.

A TEAM EFFORT

Two of the most talented groups at GCHS are the Individual Events team and the Debate team. Both groups require a good skill in public speaking.

The Individual Events team is sponsored by Mrs. Beverley Scroggins. Under her instruction, students participate in any of 12 events. These include original comedy, dramatic duet acting, oratorical declamation, or radio.

The Debate team under the instruction of Mr. Ronald Pennell, works very hard to prepare themselves for tournaments. They research topics and present them in an organized way for competition with other high schools.

Members of the Individual Events and Debate teams are some of the hardest working students in the school. The time put into their work pays off when they bring home the trophy and are announced as 'winners' in the major tournaments they attend. They should be proud of their effort.

THE SCROLL & THE BOWL

QUILL & SCROLL is an honorary society for high school journalists. The club was organized on April 10, 1926 for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievements in the field of journalism.

Like other honorary societies, there are certain, requirements each member must meet to be accepted. Members are invited by the advisor for their writing ability. Each member must maintain an accumulated grade point average of at least 3.75, and be an active member of either the Warrior yearbook staff or the High World newspaper staff. A recommendation from Antonio Betancourt, sponsor, is the final qualification.

The 1991-92 membership consists of Cori Elmore, president, and ten members. The members are Heather Gregory, Amanda Gudac, JoAnn Gray, Melissa Lynch, Heather Sanders, Kirsten Yobby, Sean Smothers, Kathy Winne, Gerlean Parker, and Brian Hawkins.

SCHOLAR BOWL is the competition of students from Granite City against students from other schools. The competition is a test of their knowledge of different subjects.

To become part of the team, a student must try out and be a sophomore, junior, or senior. There is both a junior varsity and varsity team. Each team has a team captain, a moderator to ask questions, and a timer. The varsity head coach is Christine Byer. The junior varsity coach is Dale Ashmore. He is also the sponsor of this scholastic club.

The Scholar Bowl is an official team of the Illinois High School Association. Members participate in the Southwestern Conference. These students have represented GCHS with good spirits, honor, sportsmanship, and intelligence.

WE DELIVER TO YOUR DOOR

A unique group of students have taken an interest in televisions and audio equipment. They are the ones who bring the audio-visual equipment to you.

They can be found in room 260 checking equipment, handling requests made by teachers, and doing whatever else is assigned to them. Teresa Johnson, the lady in charge, makes sure they always have something to do.

Teresa Johnson has been doing this job since 1985. "One of the nice things about my job is that in audio-visual work, I get to know and work with some students in a smaller, more relaxed setting. Over the years I have been blessed with student A-V workers who are willing to assist with nearly any task we've been asked to handle, from assembling carts, to repairing a broken machine, to helping a teacher laminate materials. Each year I hate to see the seniors leave because so many of them have been so good to work with."

Most of the students who work with Mrs. Johnson are also part of the Audio-Visual club. President Ryan Hankins said, "I have enjoyed the last two years I have been in A-V. I have learned many things on the job."

Vice president Jim Hooker added, "In my four years as an A-V club member and one year as club president, I've learned a lot about a variety of things, such as video taping plays, sports, and guest speakers. A-V club has been a good experience for me as well as for my friends in the clubs."

SMILE FOR US

Members of the photography club learn operating procedures for cameras and the correct way to take pictures. Many events throughout the year are attended and photographed by club members. Many of the pictures taken by club members are donated to the yearbook. Members consider it quite an achievement to see their photos published in the yearbook.

In addition to photographing student activities throughout the year, photography club members organize the sale of the holiday carnations. The flowers are sold for Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine's Day, and St. Patrick's Day. The money made is used to purchase cameras, film, and for the spring trip.

Officers for the club are Melissa Lynch and Amy Isenburg, co-presidents; Cori Elmore, vice president; Liz Harris, secretary; and Gretchen Schuler, treasurer. D.P. Spudich sponsors the club.

SWINGING INTO ACTION

GCHS has a new club this year. It is the Hockey Club. The hockey club requires students to have the ability to play the tough competitive sport. The members of the club feel good to be recognized by the school, and appreciate the support.

When asked why he likes the game of hockey, Chad St. Peters said, "Hockey is a very challenging sport. It is different, and not everyone can do it". Brent Golden also commented that hockey is "great and it is the most exciting sport to play."

Most members of the club have been good friends for several years, and they enjoy playing and meeting with one another. It has become one of the more memorable experiences to the students. They hope the club continues for many years and that next year's members are as enthusiastic as they are today.

WE ARE THE SCIENCE CLUB

The 1991 science club started this year with their election of officers. Senior president Jennifer Wortham, Junior vice president Steve Lubak, sophomore vice president Brooke Bjorkman, and historian Steven Schaus were elected.

Mr. Harold Gebhardt, once again, is the club sponsor. His helpers include Mr. Thomas Pinnell, Mr. Robert Rehg, Mr. Ralph Rotter, Mr. Marvin Rensing and Mr. James Harsh.

The science club helps bring students with an interest in science together in a social gathering. Each year the club helps with the haunted barn. The members also sell cheese and sausage to raise money. They have an annual hayride for entertainment and go on a winter hike. In the spring they participate in a campout.

To share these experiences with other students, many photographs of their adventures are posted by the science department office. There isn't a day that goes by without someone making colorful comments about their expeditions.

Jennifer Wortham summed up her opinion of the club by stating, "The teachers and the activities that they involve the members in is what I like best about the club. We do many interesting things throughout the year.

The most exciting new event is the outdoor classroom. We can go outside and work hard, but still have a good time.

The sponsors and teachers involved always make each activity three times the fun. With Mr. Pennell, Rehg, and Gebhardt around, nothing is ever dull."

The science club has an enrollment of 337 students, making it the largest club in G.C.H.S. Members enjoy the club, the company of their fellow classmates, and their interest in science. They join together at their meetings and share experience and knowledge.

Mr. Gebhardt said he likes sponsoring the science club because, "It provides an opportunity to be with students outside a class situation. We get to know them better and have more fun."

GETTING CLOSER TOGETHER

Helping, sharing, and talking to others are the qualifications for members of this special group. Empathy tries to encourage students to become more interested in their lives, and realize that one can make a difference. This group helps people not to stereotype others. It also brings out the sympathetic side of a person.

Mr. Jack Haug, Mr. Mike Johnson, Mrs. Shannon McWhorter, and Miss Laura Chappell are the sponsors of the group. These sponsors are dedicated and try to help anyone in any way they can. Mr. Jack Haug said Empathy is "a chance for people to know themselves, and at the same time, get to know others."

The group helps students during the hard times of their life. Growing up is not the easiest thing to do. This group helps students to make the right decision and not to give up on anything they want. The qualifications for this group are: maintaining good grades, attending school on a regular basis, and staying out of trouble.

Another requirement is to promise to be drug and alcohol free. Being substance free is the basis of this group.

One word that sums up this group is caring. Caring for other people and for yourself is how to be a great role model. Knowing that young people have to go through the whole routine that is happening now, this group helps them cope with the hard times in their lives.

CARING AND SHARING

Learning to become a better listener and a better person is one of the purposes of Empathy. It also teaches students to become better and more responsive helpers.

The two gentlemen who sponsor the club have done an excellent job showing their students how to help and understand themselves and; therefore, help understand the feelings and needs of others.

Both Mr. Haug and Mr. Johnson are guidance counselors and are sensitive to the feelings of their students. This is obvious when listening to them talk with their club members. It is obvious they care for their students and listen to their needs.

And it is obvious that the students feel the same way about them. Comments from the members include, "They're great," "I know he cares," "They are always there for us," "I've learned so much," and "I've become a better person because of Mr. Haug and Mr. Johnson."

All the members thank and appreciate the help these two wonderful gentlemen offer to the students of Granite City High School.

BANNERS & BUTTONS

The foreign policy club is a club for junior or seniors who are interested in world events and currents affairs. This year's club has an exciting event which only comes once every four years.

The "mock presidential nominating campaign" is held. Signs, banners, and buttons are made to make everything as realistic as possible. The convention is held in March and usually involves around 300-400 students.

The foreign policy class and the civics classes are used to form each of the political groups. Speeches are made by students of each group. Along with the convention, the club sells fresh citrus fruit, and plans to use the money for their spring trip.

"This year we have a much larger, more ambitious group who like to participate," states club sponsor Mr. Phillip Shatto.

"The club is an exciting club to participate in, and more active juniors and seniors are encouraged to join, says Derrick Kingsley. We always have fun in the whether it be selling citrus fruit, spring trips, or our "short" hour-long meetings. I must also commend Mr. Shatto, for his extreme dedication to all of our projects. He is a wonderful person and friend."

WE BUILD AMERICA

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) is the national organization of service trade, industry, technical and health occupation.

As a junior you are eligible to join VICA. Club members meet each day during lunch study. During that time, they discuss club business, plans for competition, and prepare for state competition. State is one of the goals that VICA students work towards.

There are 51 state and territorial associations with 300,000 members. VICA began at the Constitutional Convention in Nashville, Tennessee. Scholarships are awarded for various institutions and industries.

"VICA is an important part of a vocational future," says Bill Line. "I enjoy VICA because of being able to be with my friends with this type of work and the atmosphere," says Todd Mitchell.

VICA includes the professionals of our future. A relationship with industry is vital in helping members prepare for the working world.

EARNING THE LETTER 'G'

An athlete has the option to join the varsity club as soon they have earned their varsity letter. After receiving their letter, they must maintain a 3.0 grade point average or better and one varsity sport must be participated in yearly to be eligible to stay in this club.

The club sponsors are Mr. D. F. Miller and Mr. Bob Stegemeier. Mr. Miller, who has been the sponsor of the varsity club for eight years, states, "I just enjoy interacting with young people and this gives me the opportunity to do that."

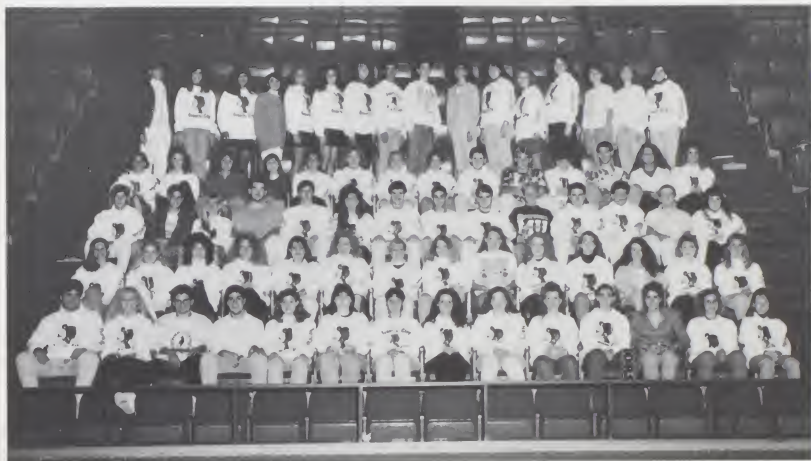

The varsity club does most of their own fund raising by sponsoring the student-faculty basketball game and other activities to raise money for athletic equipment. Student council and the varsity club work together on the donkey-basketball game, but all proceeds go to the club.

Terri Buster says, "Varsity club is great. Mr. Miller brings something to the club that you don't see anywhere else. He's a real kid at heart who loves to see us achieve. I encourage everyone who has received their varsity letter to join."

WE DECORATE THE SCHOOL

The spirit club, also known as the red peppers, help promote athletic support. This special group of girls decorate the halls as well as the athletic events and cheer for the players at the games. They also organize the traditional 'secret pals' for all senior players-both girls and boys.

The work these girls do is well appreciated by all the athletes, coaches, and parents. It's a nice feeling to arrive at school and see your locker decorated before the 'big game' tonight. It gives the player a feeling of confidence and being well-appreciated by everyone.

The red peppers is sponsored by Mrs. Janet Williams. This is her fifth year, and she "thoroughly enjoys working with the girls."

The president is Christie Vivod. Kelly Jones is vice president, Missy Simpson is secretary, and treasurers are Amanda Witter and Wendy Chamberlain.

Christie Vivod said, "The red peppers are very important to help school spirit and get other students involved."

SADD PEOPLE

Students against drunk driving is a school club whose main purpose is to get students to realize how serious the results of driving drunk can be. It is sponsored by Mr. Robert Gagliano.

This year's officers are president, Katherine Schnefke; vice-president, Kathy Barrios; secretary/treasurer, Hope Heck; and seargent-at-arms, Henry Baker.

The SADD committee is working to let teenagers and the rest of the community know that alcohol and driving do not mix. Their slogan is, "Friends don't let friends drive drunk."

They also arrange and perform skits at junior high schools to discuss the hazards of drinking and driving.

THE ALPHA GROUP

Adolescent Learning Positive Health Alternatives is a nominated group of junior and senior students who are to be viewed by freshmen as credible role models. These selected students vow to live a substance-free lifestyle, and communicate well with others to portray a positive attitude.

This program is organized to teach a nine lesson unit of drug prevention concepts and is aimed to touch the attitudes and beliefs of the freshmen health students.

Mr. Jack Haug and Mr. Michael Johnson play an important role in sponsoring and supporting what this club teaches students. This program illustrates that it is still "cool" to be a non-user of drugs and this is also quite acceptable by a large part of the high school population.

Mr. Haug says, "Statistics show this program works in the schools that use it."

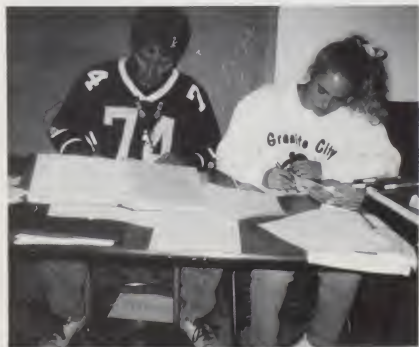

"The neatest things about the ALPHA program is the fact that you have upperclassmen serving as positive role models for freshmen, and the freshmen can see for themselves first hand that you can be popular and successful and not use drugs," says Mr. Mike Johnson.

Tiffanie Hurt believes ALPHA makes you "Think twice" before you use drugs or alcohol.

Mr. Leonard Lybarger says, "ALPHA is a good learning experience while having fun."

THE BAND PEOPLE

The band is one of the most important groups in our high school. At many athletic events, the band can be heard playing the school song or performing special arrangements of songs they have prepared for the occasion. This encourages the student body to participate in cheering for our team, boosting the morale of the players, which leads to victories for our school.

Our band is conducted by Mr. Dennis Meyer. This is his sixth year at GCHS. Mr. Meyer conducts the wind ensemble, Marching band, and the Pep Band.

For the third year now, Mr. Norbert Tate has been the assistant band director. Besides assisting Mr. Meyer, he works with the Jazz, Concert, and Pep bands. He also is the percussion instructor for the marching band.

The band works very hard throughout the year on half-time shows and concerts. In the summer, all of the band members attend a band camp for two weeks to prepare themselves for the upcoming school year.

The drum majors for this year's band are JoAnn Buxton, Bryan Welser, and Scott Schaus.

The band performs a total of four concerts a year. Three involving the concert band, and one additional jazz band concert. The band also performs at several other places throughout the year. A few of these places the band has performed at have been Busch Stadium, the V.P. Parade, and the Murphysboro Parade. They also perform at various local parades.

The band is a very talented and vital part of our high school. If you enjoy playing musical instrument then you should join the band.

GIRLS WITH SPIRIT AND TALENT

The 1991-1992 flag squad consists of 19 talented girls. The girls meet everyday during seventh hour to practice and create new routines.

The flag squad has performed at local and St. Louis parades. They also perform at the football, basketball, and soccer games. In addition to sporting events, they perform at May Carousel.

Lisa Fernandez said, "Flags are of fun, but it takes time and work."

The flags hold their tryouts every spring. They are selected for their talent and abilities to perform as a member of the squad.

Two captains are picked every year. They choreograph their own routine. The captains also have to learn a routine from the previous captains. Tryouts are very tedious, but the captains both agree that it's all worth it.

The 1991-1992 flag squad has accomplished much this year. All the hard work and responsibilities can be attributed to the captains Sharon Kozjak and Lisa Fernandez and the many talents of all the girls.

THE RIFLE GIRLS

The rifle squad is made up of 10 members. These are girls who work hard to always perfect their performances. As seen in the Homecoming parade, the Shriner's parade, pep rallies, and football games, their hard work pays off.

The members of this auxiliary earn their position with tryouts lasting for two weeks. The first week has to do with basic skills. The second week is devoted to routines. It takes many hours of practice to perfect these skills.

The captain's tryout consist of performing three routines. Two of the routines they must be original and one routine is made up by the previous captain.

Becky SanSoucie and Mary Williams are the 1991-1992 rifle captains. Mary sums up the season by saying, "Rifles is really fun but it's a lot of hard work."

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

The 1991-92 Pom-Pon squad is made up of 20 girls. These girls can be seen performing at football, basketball, and soccer games.

Every year the girls hold a pom-pom clinic for little girls that dream of becoming a pom-pom girl when they enter high school. This helps raise money for different events throughout the year.

The girls practice everyday first semester seventh hour and second semester fourth hour. They also have extra practice after school to perfect their routines. Their perfected routines are shared with the people of Granite City and St. Louis when they perform in various parades.

Mrs. Diane Peach is the new sponsor of the pom-pom squad. She has also resumed responsibility for the flag and the rifle squads. "Where I coached before, I did not see the dedication I see with this squad. They always give 100%," says Mrs. Peach. "The officers are very responsible and they have made my first year at GCHS a delight."

The senior co-captains are Vicki, Justice and Angela Jacobs and the junior co-captain is Anne Hewlett.

CHEERING FOR THEIR TEAMS

A girl becomes a cheerleader for a number of reasons. Some of these reasons include 'like sports,' 'always wanted to be a cheerleader,' and 'it's so much fun.'

A few of the GCHS cheerleaders have been with this spirited activity for a number of semesters. Jennifer Baker has been cheering for seven semesters. "It was hard work, but it was always fun to travel with the teams and be involved in a school activity," says Jennifer.

Shelly Wilbur has also been with the cheerleading program for four years. She says, "It was a lot of fun to cheer for the teams and I've made some really good friends."

Jennifer Basuel summed it up by stating, "It was hard work, but it all paid off when you saw the good results."

NEW DAYS - NEW WAYS

There are many things the cheerleaders learn when they attend their annual camp. They learn to cheer, but also they learn some other essentials.

Learning about friendship is one instance. "There are so many girls who attend camp and there are so many friendships that could form," states Gretchen Schuler.

Or maybe picking up some worthwhile habit that will probably continue to everyday use. Examples of this include 'getting up early enough so you don't have to rush through breakfast,' 'being nice to everyone even if you don't know them,' 'smiling,' and 'being in good spirits and happy most of the time.'

Their days were full of watching other squads go through their routines, listening to significant instructions, and trying to remember all this so it could be shared with the other girls who could not attend. Each day was a different experience, but each day was also a new learning situation.

After a busy day of routines and discussions, the girls were able to calm down in their places of residence. They learned that each of their days at camp was a worthwhile experience and that they gained new insights that could be used throughout their school year.

IT LOOKS SO EASY

It sounds so easy. All you have to do is get in front of a bunch of people and shout. But, that's not the way it is.

Cheerleading is hard work, dedication, long hours of practice, devoted sponsors, and enthusiastic girls. It's a group of spirited girls who stand in the cold weather for football games or the warm gym during basketball and wrestling season and cheer their classmates to a victory.

It's a group of dedicated young individuals who could be sitting at home in front of their television or shopping in St. Louis, but instead choose to stay after school every night and practice until every routine is done to perfection.

It's the girls who enjoy sports and cheering in front of the people who are attending the event. It's the Granite City High School cheerleading squads . . . and it's always a job well done.

SING IT ONE MORE TIME

The vocal music groups are directed by Gail Mueller. Our schools music department consists of several different choirs. They are all special and unique in their own ways.

Girls Glee meets for a half hour daily and sings a variety of songs. Contondo is an advanced girls choir.

Advanced Mixed Chorus is a mixture of all four grades. The students are chosen for their ability to read music, sing in a group, and their vocal ability.

The Swing Choir consists of talented girls and boys who like to dance and sing. They dress in well-coordinated attire when they perform. They are dedicated and put in hours of hard practice time to make their performances perfect. Modern Music Masters, or Tri-M, is an organization for music and band students. A 'C' average must be maintained in academic subjects and a 'B' in music or band.

With the talents of the students and the help of Mrs. Mueller, our music department always puts on an exciting performance everytime they go before an audience.

MUSIC - MUSIC - MUSIC

As you walk down the hallway by the band and music rooms, you hear a harmony of different sounds and melodies. The unique sounds of each instrument echoes from the band room and the harmonious voices are ever so vivid filtering through the music room door.

With 241 students involved in the different choirs, director Gail Mueller has an overwhelming task. Each year she begins with different student and a completely different experience ... but always an enjoyable one.

Over the course of the year, the singers perform in various festivals and concerts. "It's so much fun and hard work, but it's all worth it when you get compliments on the show we do," says Janice Poole. Beth Peery adds, "No two performances are ever the same. We have to expect the unexpected."

Being part of the music department is always a good experience, but it is especially good for the seniors. They have had the pleasure of singing and performing in concerts for a few years and have experienced many wonderful moments.

"It's a lot of hard work. We tend to complain most of the time, but when we get up on the stage and give a good performance, we know that the hard work has paid off," says Melissa Griffin.

"After you work all year and spend a numerous amount of time on a piece of music, it is a truly marvelous feeling to be able to get on stage and feel the audience's gratitude. Musicians live for performing and having a good time doing it," adds Carrie Heck.

Singing as a part of one of the choirs offers the opportunity to meet new people, sing in front of large groups, and have a good time. It always ends up to be an enjoyable experience and brings the students interested in music closer together.

Danny Burns sums up the music program by saying, "My freshman year, I was a nervous wreck. After four years, I have become a kind of veteran. It (music) just becomes a part of your life."

A BIG WHITE RABBIT

The speech department of Granite City High School presented "Harvey" by Mary Chase as their winter play. It was presented on January 30 and 31, and directed by F. Gordon Mueller.

The cast of characters were Erin Rotter as Myrtle Mae Simmons, Winona Meford as Veta Louise Simmons, Don Goss as Elwood P. Dowd, Jennifer Hitt as Miss Johnson, Renee Biggs as Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, Regina Hankins as Ruth Kelly, R.N. Tom Parmley as Duane Willson, Dustin Wilkinson as Lyman Sanderson, M.D. Aaron Belmer as William R. Chumley, M.D. Alicia Skirball as Betty Chumley, Patrick Jessee as Judge Omar Gaffney, and Mark Thornberry as E.J. Lofgren.

"We put a lot of hard work on stage, but it was all worth it," says Erin Rotter. It took hours of stage time from the dedicated actors and just as many hours from the director to ensure a good performance. All these hours of rehearsal paid off as the audiences from both performances thoroughly enjoyed the production.

"I've really enjoyed being in all the plays here at the high school. "Harvey" was certainly one of the best rabbit actors I've worked with!"

The soccer captains for this season are Tim Henson and Eric Davis.

OUR SEASON

The 1991 football season started on August 19 and ended on November 6. On the morning of August 19, the ambitious young men started practicing twice a day to help ensure a successful season.

When school started on August 26, the football team practiced six times a week until the last game of the year. It was hard work and tiring days, but it was also all worth every minute of practice time.

The team was 8-1 in the regular season. The only team to defeat the Warriors was East St. Louis. Coach Tom Wyrostek says, "I was very pleased with the young men on the team. Their performance and overall dedication was outstanding."

Coach Wyrostek added, "The team beat St. Louis University High School, and they've always been state contenders. That says a lot for the Granite City football players."

FRIDAY NIGHT TRADITION

Football means many different things to different people. It can mean watching Monday Night Football on Channel 2 or participating at a Warrior football game on Friday night. Many students of GCHS and their parents enjoy this sport as a Warrior tradition.

Warrior fans put their 'all' into their participation of the all-American sport. You will find a variety of fans at the Warrior football games. As the cheerleaders lead the team to victory, parents of the football players are there to support their young men in victory or defeat.

The marching Warrior band and auxiliaries make sure that halftime at the Warrior football game is never boring, while many of the GCHS students come to support their football friends on the team, and socialize as well.

The football Warriors also have their own reasons for participating in this sport. Some of the players said it was "a rough-man's sport and you can throw people around." Others said it was just "the feeling of being part of a team," or "just like playing football."

All of the players, coaches, fans, cheerleaders, and other performers know that football at GCHS is always an enjoyable tradition and they look forward to Friday night and the GCHS football games.

OUR COACH TOM

Coach Tom Wyrostek led the GCHS Warrior football team to victory many times in the 1991 season. Tom Wyrostek started out his football career at Rock Junior High School in East St. Louis. From there he went to East St. Louis High School where he received all-conference, all-metro, all-state cognition.

When he attended the University of Missouri, he was all conference for two years. He also received honorable mention in all-american.

Tom started coaching at Granite City High School in 1965 immediately after finishing college. In 1974 he was named head football coach at North. He remained at North until 1984 when it merged with Granite City South to become Granite City High School.

He was named head football coach again in 1990. His total coaching record is 68-50 for the 18 years he has been coaching.

SOCCER

The 1991 Warrior soccer team had another good season. With 392 dedicated Warrior soccer fans helping to kick off the season on the "Gauntlet" at the traditional "midnight practice." The season was underway.

Two new coaches were additions to the soccer staff. Mr. Virgil Kirksey and Mr. Barry Grote. These two gentlemen were ready to prepare themselves for a tough, competitive season.

Head coach Gene Baker announced Tim Henson and Eric Davis as captains for the season. Long, hard, exhausting hours were put into practice. One week before the game day, the "St. Louis Post Dispatch" Coach's Poll Rankings came out with Granite City ranked as Number Six.

The games began with a 3-0 victory over Bethalto, but suffered a 2-0 loss to the Number One-ranked Vianney Griffins. The Warriors came back strong with a big 4-0 win over Alton. This prepared them for their rival-Collinsville. The two teams played 'even' throughout the season. Their first confrontation ended in a 0-0 tie.

The next five games started a winning streak for the Warriors. In the second of the five victories, the Warriors, (now ranked sixth) played Number Two ranked C.B.C. At the end of regulation time, the score was a 1-1 tie on a penalty kick scored by Tim Henson. This was Tim's first varsity goal. The two teams went into sudden victory overtime, and the Warriors won on a shot by Josh Neidhardt.

The Warriors then travelled to Quincy to win yet another victory by a score of 2-1. Brent Dippel led the next game by having a hat-trick (three goals) for a 5-3 victory over Belleville West.

It was now time to recognize the senior players at the ceremonial senior night. Seniors Tim Henson, Josh Houston, Josh Neidhardt, Matt Crider, Jim Petroski, Curt Kessler, Chris Votoupal, Chad Toeniskoetter, Matt Stearns, Mark McKechnan, Andy Jenkins, Eric Davis, and Ryan Repp were honored. To complete the evening, the Warriors beat Cahokia 5-0 on all senior goals and assists.

The next two games were played through regulation and one overtime without a goal being scored. Quincy Notre Dame and Collinsville once again shut out the Warriors, but they bounced back to take a 3-0 win over Belleville East, and placing fourth in the Tournament of Champions.

With two games left in regular season play, the Warriors stayed tough, beating Alton and enduring a loss to McCluer North. At the end of regular season play, they were Ranked Third.

It was now post season play and the Warriors had beaten Mascoutah 7-0 to once again become regional champions. The Belleville East Lancers were the next victims of the Warriors with a 1-0 win.

This led them to the Sectionals where they would play Highland on a very cold, windy Saturday afternoon. Dan Clark scored his first varsity goal to move the Warriors to the super-sectional finals ... a game with the Collinsville Kahoks.

The two teams eventually played 293 scoreless minutes of soccer, and after 13 minutes of overtime, the Kahoks scored to beat our school team. This ended the season-long scoreless tie between the two teams and ended what was a good season for the Granite City Warriors.

The team ended the season with a record of 16-5-3. There were 29 lettermen. The team and individual players achieved many goals. They were the 1991 Southwestern Conference Co-Champions Ranked Third in the "St. Louis Post-Dispatch." and Tenth in the "USA Today" Gatorade Poll national rankings.

All-conference first team honors went to Tim Henson, Brent Dippel, Jason Maxfield, Mark McKechnan, and Curt Kessler. Second team honors went to Eric Davis.

All-sectional honors were received by Eric Davis, Brent Dippel, Tim Henson, and Jason Maxfield. Henson and Maxfield were also named to the All-Tournament team in the Tournament of Champions, the All-State team, and the All-Midwest team.

This year's 'unsung awards' went to Josh Neidhardt and Curt Kessler. The 'Dave Morgan Award' went to Mark McKechnan for his hard work, attitude, and desire to play. The 1991 Most Valuable Player Award went to goalie Tim Henson.

We, the 1991 Varsity Warrior soccer team, "wish to dedicate our season to our late, beloved Coach, Mr. Mel Bunting. Our thoughts will always be with you."

WORKING AND PREPARING

The junior varsity soccer team had high expectations for themselves with two new coaches, Coach Virgil Kirksey and Coach Barry Grote. The boys were taught to once again push themselves and teammates to be all they could be. They were being prepared for tough competition.

The boys worked hard to prepare for the games. It paid off as the team won 3-0 in their first game against Bethalto, but suffered a hard loss the next game against Vianny 1-0. The team fought back to uphold the G.C. reputation of being a 'soccer town.'

With a season record of 10 wins, 3 losses, 3 ties, the team proved their pure, honest dedication was real. The boys learned to communicate, and help each other on and off the field.

David Dutko said, "The season went well, and we all really improved." Mark Winfield also commented, "Coach Kirksey and Grote really added to the season. We could joke with Coach Kirksey about living in Collinsville, and Coach Grote has a great young attitude."

IT'S A REAL KICK

The freshman soccer team had a strong season. This 1991 season was a new experience for the boys, but they handled it well. Coach David Ames instructed the boys on sharpening skills, learning specific plays, and the game of soccer as well. Matt Wilson said, "As a freshman my first season went fast and well. It was fun. And I can't wait until next year."

The team felt they accomplished much this season and achieved many of their goals. The end of the season record was 7 wins, 3 losses, and 4 ties. Coach Ames commented, "We had an unusual amount of ties this year. At one point in the season we were 3-3-3." The freshman scored 49 goals to their opposition's 12, along with 6 shutouts. The long hours of practice paid off.

"Overall we had a very good freshman group, and it was a very good year," Coach Ames concluded.

SERIOUS-FUNNY-MEMORABLE

The 1991 boys soccer team had another good season. There were many memorable times for the players including winning in overtime, scoring their first varsity goal, or playing in a state tournament games.

Josh Neihardt said his most memorable moment was "when I scored the game-winning goal in overtime against C.B.C." Jamie Bridges said, "We all had fun, and were winning at the same time."

Captain Tim Henson has had many memorable moments. The best is "having great coaches and great teammates."

There has also been some funny moments the players recalled. One of Andy Jenkins' photos which appeared in an out-of-town newspaper was found amusing by some of his fellow players.

Bill Clark said, "I had a jinxed jersey. I was hurt and out for a while. During the first game after my return, Tom Breeden was wearing the same numbered jersey, and ended up with the same injury." Dave Partney said "I'm going to be smarter in the off-season, and I can't wait until next year."

The serious work does pay off, but the funnier times are always good to remember as well.

LOYAL PLAYERS AND DEDICATED FANS

Go Warriors! Lets Go Warriors! Lets Go! are some of the words heard at all the GCHS basketball games. The loyal fans who attend the games are always cheering and chanting to help insure a victory. They're always there to support the team and their enthusiastic coach.

Coach William Ohlendorf says, "The team has been playing well this season. The performance has been very well also, especially our game against Collinsville. That game turned out to be a success."

Our team traveled to Salem and placed third in the Salem Tournament. In the Southwestern conference, our team also placed second with a 8-2 record.

We are very proud of our basketball team. It takes hard work, team effort, dedication, and continuous hours of practice to become a good GCHS basketball player.

Some of the players go to college and get scholarships. Some will stop playing the sport after high school. Whatever the case, their determination and spirit excels as they continuously lead the basketball Warrior team to victories.

Students should be proud of the players' spirit and attend the games to share in their accomplishments.

HOURS OF PRACTICE AND DEDICATION

Determination, team effort, hours of practice, dedication, and leadership are just a few words' that describe our basketball team at Granite City High School.

As a team, this group of young gentlemen have the technique and ability to work together to create a marvelous basketball team. Without the help of Coach William Ohlendorf, the team would not be as successful as it is.

Coach Ohlendorf has put many hours and extra time towards the team. Coach teaches the team to set goals for themselves and to achieve them by the end of the season.

Striving to be the best is the main point in playing basketball. You also have to maintain a positive attitude all the time in order to win the game.

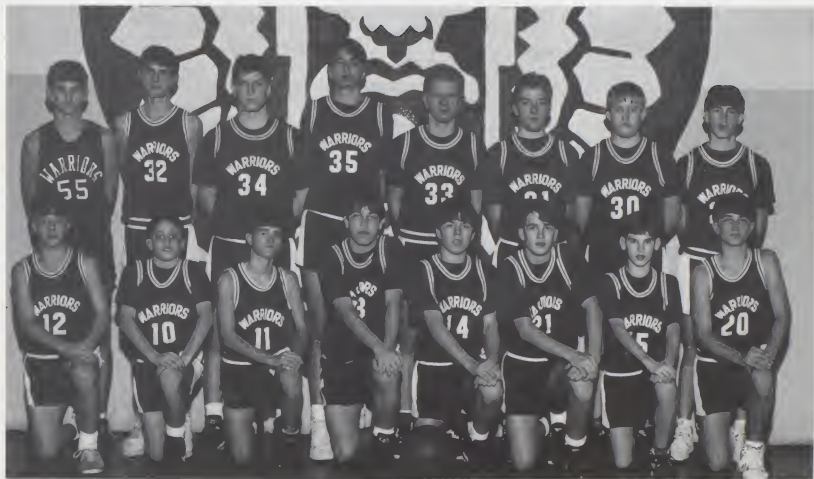

Brian Smith, Jeff Smith, John Coziar, and Drake Marshall are the four returning seniors. They and the other team members have put in many hours of hard work and determination towards the team.

Without this help and Coach Ohlendorf, our team would not be what it is today. It is a team full of pride, tradition, dedication, and school spirit. It is a team the students and adults are proud of watching.

EXCITEMENT - FUN - PRIDE - PRACTICE - DEDICATION

What does basketball mean to you? It means excitement, college scholarships, team work, practice, pride in achievement, tradition, friendships, dedication, and building character. A few of the basketball players were asked this question and their answers varied as do their personalities.

Leroy Samuels — "It's an exciting game. If we didn't have basketball, I probably wouldn't be at school."

Mike Dochwat — "I like basketball because of the competition. It improves my skills and it builds character."

Jeff Smith — "In high school, basketball is more than just a game. With Coach Ohlendorf, it's a time to become more disciplined in whatever you do in and beyond high school."

Brian Smith — "Basketball is a very fun and challenging sport. The best part is the competitiveness and desire to win."

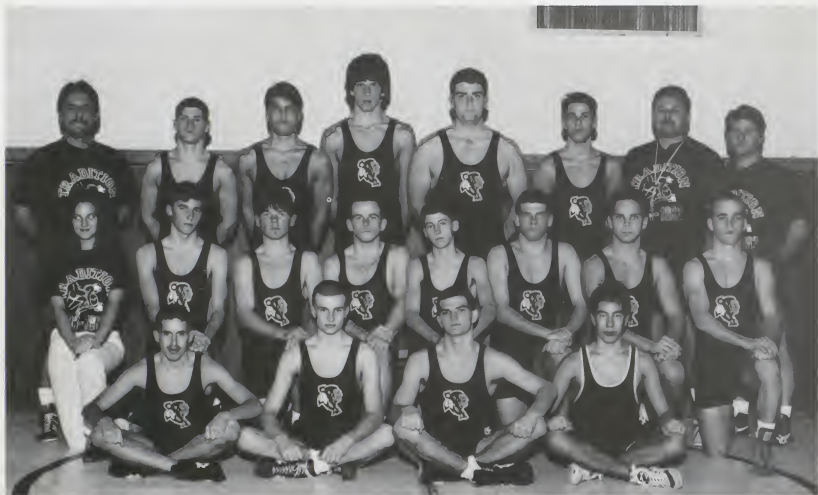

Larry Mosby — "Basketball means hard work and dedication. You have to want to do it. It is also fun."

John Coziar — "Basketball is very challenging to me. It's very exciting when you play with the caliber of players that I do."

Marc Patton — "Basketball takes hard work, but it's worth it in the end."

Jonathan Duft — "Basketball is a fun and exciting game. It's a benefiting experience to be coached by Coach Ohlendorf and Coach VanBuskirk. It will help me in years to come."

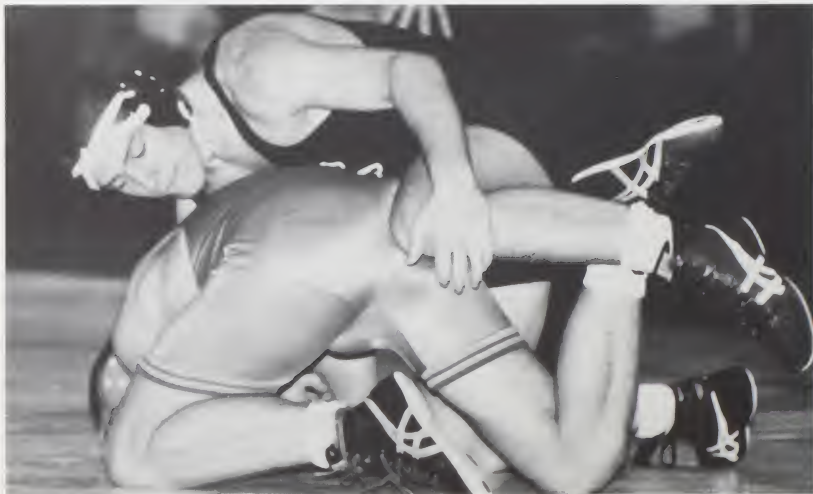

Steve Rains — "It is exciting to play with people that are good."

I WRESTLE BECAUSE . . . .

There are many ways to define the sport of wrestling, and there are many reasons why the boys at GCHS go out for the sport. Here are just a few:

CHRIS HOFFSTOT-"Wrestling is a team of 13 individuals-the toughest sport around. I got into it because I was forced to by the Heubschman brothers."

RYAN KING-"I got in it for the publicity. Wrestling is a tough sport that takes skill and dedication."

JEFF HEUBSCHMAN-"Wrestling is a tough sport. It is great because it's a lone sport and you can't blame anyone if you lose. I got into it because I couldn't find a place to box, and this was the next best thing."

JERRY HEUBSCHMAN-"I got into wrestling because I like it."

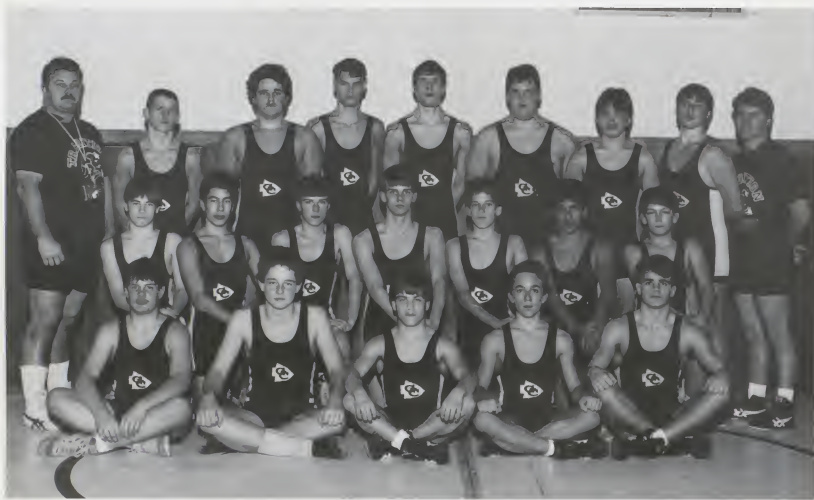

DAN HICKS-"An interest in the sport."

TIM FULKERSON-"I got into wrestling because my dad wanted me to."

JEFF MARRIS-"It's a fun sport."

TONY BUCHEK-"I wrestle because my dad told me to try a new sport."

1

MEETING THE GOALS

Putting together a successful season is the main objective of any wrestling team. With hard work and perseverance the team accomplished their pre-set goals.

The coaching was a major contribution and was greatly appreciated. The staff consisted of Coach Mike Garland, Coach Smith, and Coach Greg Garland.

Mike Garland's squad completed their first season undefeated. The matmen achieved top standards this year that brought them a first-place award in the Holiday Tournament, St. Charles Tournament, and the Hazelwood Quad tournament.

The team won second place honors at the Springfield Tournament. These tournaments proved to be just the beginning of their winning days.

They set high goals and with their determination and love of the sport were able to clinch a spot in the state wrestling tournament.

Wrestling is a sport of constant practice and goals. Each boy set a goal for himself and hopes to meet it before the season begins. Then once the season has started, a new goal is set. If all goes well, they will end up at the state tournament ... and they achieved their goal.

SWINGING FOR PAR OR BETTER

The season opened up under the coaching staff of Mr. Russell Chappell and Mr. Dwayne Chaney. These two men put in many hours of coaching to improve the boys' game. Coach Chappell says, "This year's team was very dedicated and young. Having a young team worked to our advantage. The members enjoyed and played the game for all it was worth."

The team did not place in the IHSA Regionals, but they capture first place in the conference.

The varsity team ended up with a fine record of 18-2-2. Only three seniors will graduate, which leaves a young team for next year.

The team was led by senior captain Joe Brewer and junior Gabe Mitchell.

"This season was a great triumph for the golf team with only three returning lettermen, Steve Rains, Gabe Mitchell, and myself," says Joe. "Good luck next year."

NO REGARDS FOR THOSE BEHIND

Dedication and hard work paid off for this year's cross country team. Knowing that everything depends on 'you' makes winning a big reward and individual accomplishment.

Getting in shape doesn't happen quickly. Everyday after school, the team runs between two and six miles. The day before a meet, the team may reduce the miles to two or three miles.

"Cross country is a very challenging sport. If you are able to run three to four miles a day, I encourage you to come out for the team. During my four years on the team, I have enjoyed running for Coach McClain and Coach Haeffner. Good luck to all underclassmen and don't forget: give it your best when you hear the shot of the gun," says Lance Reynolds.

Whether it be conditioning or running a race, the team always manages to put forth all of their effort and strive to win. The ability and willingness to achieve is what the Granite City High School cross country team is all about. Congratulations on all your wins.

ANTICIPATING A VICTORIOUS SEASON

As fall sports such as volleyball, soccer, and cross country end, the winter sports of girls basketball begins. Practicing many long, hard hours after school is one of the trademarks of the team. Their devotion to perfection and their skills gives them the strength to defeat the opposing team.

Leading the lady Warriors for the 1992 basketball season were seniors Karen Sykes and Jennifer Wortham. Younger key players were Stephanie Kult, Dana Dresch, and Jamie Cavaness. Other teammates that contributed to the team were Tiffany Winters, Wendy Chamberlain, and Kami Kessel.

Coach Allen Lobdell anticipated a good year with the girls and said, "With key players returning, and many new players joining the team, we knew what we needed to focus on to have a successful season."

Many players anticipated their basketball season also. Dana Dresch says, "The season looked very promising. Our guards had improved a lot from last year which aided our abilities as a team." Jennifer Wortham adds, "I was really anxious for a good season this year. There was a team effort from all of the players and we got along with each other a lot better which made playing basketball more enjoyable for myself, my teammates, and Coach Lobdell."

SET TO WIN

Under new coaching tactics, the lady Warrior volleyball team improved immensely. The new head coach is Cindy Gagich. Her assistant, who also coaches the freshman, is Christine Byer. Both of the new coaches put many hours to try and improve the previous record. Coach Gagich said, "A new level of enthusiasm spread through this team. They will be able to set their goals higher for the next season and with continued hard work and dedication will be able to achieve those goals."

Although the team started their season with a couple of losses, the girls did not let this get their hopes down. Compared to last year's record of 4-18, the team doubled their win column to 8-13. The girls' strived for everything they earned, and have something to be proud of.

This year's team consisted of 3 seniors, 7 juniors, 3 sophomores. The three seniors, Carrie Brown, Karen Sykes, and Jennifer Wortham had a memorable senior season. Karen Sykes said, "Our team improved very much this year. We played more like a team and worked very well together. My most memorable moment was when we won the home opener against Wood River." The team has bright hopes for the future. With their ability, skill, and attitude, the girls are only beginning to experience the joy of winning.

WE ARE A WINNING TEAM

The junior varsity volleyball team once again had a successful season. Coach Cindy Gagich, and her assistant, Coach Chris Byer, helped the team to a record of 9 wins and 9 losses. The team had two captains who took control when things got out of hand. The captains were Staci Johnson and Michelle Knox. They were chosen for their leadership, and their attitude on the court. Staci Johnson says, "Being captain was a real honor. With the team, we had this year, I am looking forward to a successful senior year."

The team was composed of five juniors, five sophomores, and one freshman. They worked well together in all situations. They pulled together through difficult times and celebrated at winning times.

Learning the basic skills of the bump, set, and spike developed in the freshman team. They ended up with a record of 7 wins and 16 losses. Playing competitive volleyball for the first year, the girls pulled together and worked for every win. With their hard work, and their determination to achieve goals, the team came out a winner. Coach Byer said, "I was excited with the enthusiasm and energy the girls displayed throughout the season. They made my first season a success."

HITTING WITH POWER

The girls tennis team was at it again. They began practicing in June to get a head start on some important aspects of the game. The year started off well, but some difficulties occurred later in the season. Christy Trotter says, "I didn't play up to my full potential."

Because the team consisted of mostly first-year players, the team had to play harder, concentrate more intently, and have a little more patience. Jody Forester states, "Good tennis players don't appear overnight. I've been playing since my freshman year and I still feel that I need to be more dedicated in order to improve."

Tennis is a game in which the player needs to have endurance, coordination, agility and speed. The mental part of the game is also important. Optimism and desire are dominant factors that could help or hinder a performance.

The number of girls that came out for the team was surprisingly large this season and many underclassman are hoping for the best next year.

Cari Schaus states, "I feel good about the number of varsity matches that I played this season and next year I hope to do better."

ALLEN, ALLEN, HE'S OUR MAN

The girls of the tennis team must have determination and skill. This comes with self discipline and sometimes a little push.

The gentleman who has been in charge for the past six years is Allen Lobdell. Working with the complaints and demands of teenage girls wasn't always easy, but he handled the team with amazing calmness.

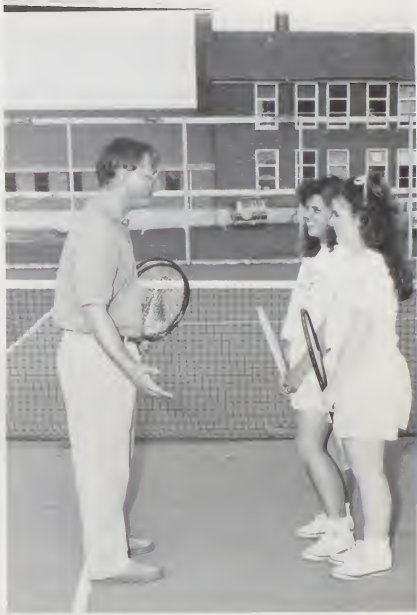

In the past, Mr. Lobdell had many experienced players going out for the team, but this year was the first that he had to handle a multitude of first-year players. "Mistakes were made by everyone, but Coach Lobdell never gave up on us. Negative words were never spoken," says Michelle Langsdorf.

Coach Lobdell also is in charge of the boys tennis team. When asked if there was a big difference between coaching girls and boys, he said "I enjoyed the actual instruction part of coaching. Girls are not naturally aggressive. That is something that must be taught to girls and practiced." He continued and said, "Girls are more willing to take instruction and listen."

This may be Allen Lobdell's last year as coach of the girls team, but who could ever forget his kindness, smile, and all the other wonderful characteristics that make up this wonderful coach.

The girls of the team say "Thank you for being the good person and coach that you are. And thank you for caring."

1. Christy Trotter gives Coach Lobbell a lesson of her own. 2. Tara Wyatt and Nicole Zelenka practice controlling the ball. 3. Jodi Forester concentrates on making a good return. 4. Coach Lobbell gives Amy Isenburg and Nikki Petrillo some constructive criticism. 5. Nikki Petrillo says, "Give me a break."

FRIENDS AND NEW BEGINNINGS

The ceremonies on graduation night are considered to be the beginning of the end. It is the beginning of our new life, in the real world, away from the sheltered life we have led up to this point. However, it is the end to our happy and carefree years of high school. The freedom of youth now becomes responsibilities of adulthood. The life long friendships, and fond memories of dances, parties, and other activities are the only things that keep the past four years of high school alive.

It is sad in one respect because there are no happier times in the lives of human beings than the times which only require them to develop their minds, without the responsibilities of earning a livelihood. It is the time when you are accepted for what you are; political, social, economic, and religious barriers do not exist in the minds of teenagers.

As we reflect on the words of valedictorian Michelle Randell and salutarian Justian Stallings, we feel a real sense of self accomplishment and pride. We know that whatever experiences we may come across in life, nothing will ever be the same as graduation night.

Seniors will depart on graduation night realizing they may never see some of their fellow students again. This ends a significant part of a senior's life, but at the same time begins an enjoyable and exciting new venture into the future.

Our teachers have given us the tools to think and learn for the rest of our lives. It's up to us to live up to their expectations.

Matriculation-the beginning of new friends, new adventures, and a new life as an adult.

NO MORE PENCILS, NO MORE BOOKS

The senior class of 1991 said their "good-byes" on May 31. The ceremony was filled with anticipation and excitement of the future. The salutatorian, Justin Stallings, gave a speech reflecting positive thoughts of the last four years. Valedictorian, Michelle Randall, followed with her speech which was filled with hopes of the future.

The students were called one by one to receive their long-awaited diplomas. As they grasped their diplomas with pride, they knew this was more than just a piece of paper ... this was their symbols of accomplishment.

Principal David Painter and other administrators watched as the graduating class began their lives as responsible young adults. Leaving their high school days behind them, they now venture to new lives and new beginnings. As the graduates exited the ceremony, they could be heard chanting, "No more pencils, no more books, no more teachers' dirty looks!"

GOOD NEWS COMES TO GCHS

The spring musical was a great success. The actors and actresses proved that hard work and dedication paid off during their final performances. Directed by Beverley Scroggins, the performers pleased the crowd with two spectacular shows. Other individuals who helped greatly in the production were, Gail Mueller, the musical director and Margaret Pennell, choreographer.

Behind the scenes of the play was the production staff. They may not be recognized as much as the cast members but each member played a much-needed part in the success of the play. Some of the jobs included were setting of the lights, sound, follow spots, and props.

A member of the cast, Terry Kent stated, "It was a great experience. It was hard work, but much fun too. Being on stage and performing in front of an audience made it all worthwhile. It is an experience I will never forget or ever regret."

THROUGH THE YEARS

Every little girl dreams about being a fairy princess swept off her feet by a knight in shining armor. For most, the senior prom is the closest she will come to fulfilling this fantasy. Prom is a magical evening where every girl gets to feel like Cinderella and every guy like a prince.

Upon arriving at Pipefitter's hall, the handsome couples emerged from their cars and limousines and entered the place where dreams come true.

The room was filled with girls dressed in elaborate gowns with their hair and make-up done to perfection. The handsome young men were dressed to match their dates. The hall looked like a picture out of a story book, decorated with teal and mauve flowers and balloons.

Everyone took pictures, socialized with friends, and danced. Everyone agreed that prom was a memorable evening that will be cherished forever.

ELEGANT DRESSES AND TUXEDOS

After months of preparation, the big day arrived, April 27, the day chosen for the 1991 Senior Prom.

Preparation for the evening consisted of finding a date, buying tickets, selecting appropriate attire and accessories, deciding on transportation, and planning after-prom activities.

By the end of February most had decided on a date and had bought tickets for the event. The girls set out to discover the "perfect" dress and the boys selected tuxedos and accessories to match. Some decided to rent limousines and travel with other couples, while others decided to drive in their own cars.

At 5:30 p.m. the doors to Pipefitters Hall opened and in stepped the seniors and their dates, all wearing their best. After socializing with friends and having pictures taken, dinner was served. Following dinner, the D.J. began playing the music and the guests danced while more photos were taken. Prom ended at 10:30 p.m., but for many the festivities continued for hours.

Activities Director Steve Hamilton commented on Senior Prom. "I think it's neat to see the kids all dressed up having a good time. They look like different people after seeing them in jeans all the time." Student Terri Buster spoke about the 1991 Prom, "Even though I was only a junior when I attended this year's Prom, I feel it was an everlasting experience that I will carry through the years. Attending this Prom has made me anticipate my Senior Prom even more." The memories of the 1991 Senior Prom will be carried through the years by all who attended.

LET'S RECOGNIZE THOSE SENIORS

Senior recognition is the final ceremony held for seniors before graduation. Traditionally, the ceremony is held one morning prior to graduation. This year senior recognition was held Wednesday, May 22, at 7 p.m., in the high school auditorium.

As activities director, Mr. Steve Hamilton, said "the evening recognition assembly gave family members and special guests a chance to see their graduating relative or friend participate in the ceremony."

Senior recognition is a time when the seniors are rewarded and honored for all their hard work during their high school days. Numerous scholarships are awarded from various foundations and businesses.

In addition to the numerous recognitions, the new student council president is initiated by the retiring president. It was the duty and honor of Leah Schuman to swear in Darla Mayhall.

This day meant different things to the seniors. To some it was the beginning of a new life and to others it was a wonderful evening with their classmates and families.

"The reason senior recognition is so enjoyable for me is because finally after twelve years of school at least someone is acknowledging my years of hard work," says Chris Milton.

"Senior recognition is a special time for all graduating seniors. It is an exceptionally special time in my life because I received the opportunity to add a link to the chain my grandfather started many years ago. It is a thrill and an honor I will remember forever," said Leah Schuman, retiring student body president.

Their reasons may all be different, but they all had one thing in common — graduation. In just a few weeks, they would no longer be a class. They would be individuals pursuing different careers and going in many directions.

This was one of the last times they could see so many of their friends and family members in one place. It was their last chance to gather in the school auditorium. The next time would be on the football field. And the next time would be at their class reunion.

The day made many seniors think of themselves as adults and no longer children. They knew it was now up to them to carry on the tradition and be the graduating class of 1991.

RUNNING WITH THE WIND

Running is the best way to keep your body in shape. It improves your cardiovascular system also builds and shapes muscles. The 1990-1991 track team knows that long practices are essential to winning meets. They practice hard after school running sprints and long distances to prepare for upcoming competitions. It all pays off in the end when you win your first meet.

Lance Reynolds says, "Going out for track and field means sacrificing a lot of fun activities to achieve your goals." "Track and field is a great sport to go out for. You also have to be willing to work hard at the after school practices. They may be tough at times but it's all worth it at the meets," replied Brian Seiz.

The coaches are Dale Rice, Jim Harsh, Greg Garland, Larry Curry and the head coach is Dave McClain. Coach McClain says, "The coaches and I expect to be competitive this season in most of the field events: especially the high jump, Dan Brazee, shot and discus, Larry Curry. Our distance runners are going to have a good season, especially Larry Strader and Lance Reynolds in the mile. We will be weak in the short races on the track after graduating our senior sprinters."

The girls track team consisted of only ten members for the 1990-91 season.

With only ten girls participating on the team this year, it was a struggle to obtain many victories, but with hard practices and hard work success will be achieved.

The girls are all good friends and they pulled through the season by handing each other support and confidence through actions and words.

The strategy of hard work and discipline will result in breaking personal records and decreasing the average times for our runners.

The 1990-91 girls' Warrior track team members were: Jennifer Winfield, Carrie Brown, Maria Hawkins, Kathleen Reader, Jeanine McMillian, Paula Heffner, Alicia Skirball, Cassandra Krinski, Vicki Brandt, and Sally Pavlow.

Once again let's thank the 1990-1991 track team for a great year. Also Coach McClain for doing an outstanding job as head coach.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALLGAME

An all American tradition that has been played for centuries is baseball. Everyone that plays baseball enjoys the vigorous exercise they receive running, hitting, catching, and throwing. The team started their practices early in March to insure success at their games. Some games lasted from after school until dark and not a dull minute took place. The game is well enjoyed at our high school not only by the players, but also the devoted fans. The players play for several different reasons. Some play to receive a varsity letter and others may play to feel the sense of accomplishment felt after every completed game. Most however, play for the love of the game and to belong to the Warrior team.

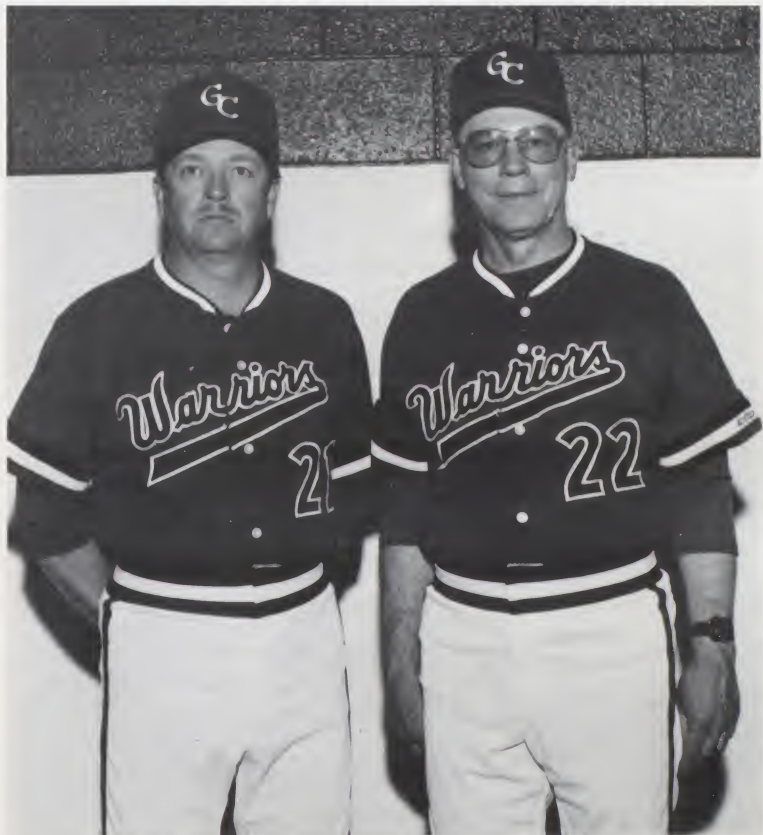

Under the coaching of Bob Stegemeier and Gus Lignoul, the varsity baseball team finished with a 21-13 record. The sophomore coach was Don Harris he led his team to a winning season of 14-4. The freshman coach was Darren Depew this team had a record of 17-3.

"Playing for coach Depew was a great learning experience, and we all learned from him," stated Mark Winfield.

"Playing for Coach Depew was fun. He was one of the main reasons why we won," stated Jason Black.

"We had many laughs playing with coach Harris," stated Bob Wilson.

LOVE MEANS NOTHING TO THEM

The boys tennis team began their season with an away victory against Cahokia. This was the beginning of a winning year. The varsity players ended with 8 wins and 5 losses, and the junior varsity with 3 wins and 3 losses.

Although tennis is not considered a spectator sport at our high school, the team attracted a small attending audience last spring. Regardless of their number of supporters, the team does their best to keep tennis alive at Granite City High.

The doubles team of sophomore Dan Debert and senior Raffi Karibian won the Southwestern Conference Tournament at Belleville East and the Sectional Tournament at Belleville West to qualify for the state tournament.

Coach Allen Lobdell states, "This year was one of the best years I've had in five years of coaching boys tennis because this is the first time I've had a doubles team win conference and take the sectional title in the season. The team finished third in the conference meet."

Coach Lobdell feels that he lost strong players to graduation, but he is optimistic about next year. "Next year will be a rebuilding year. I'll have a lot of underclassmen to work with," he replies, when asked for his prediction of next season.

Mark Thornsberry concludes, "It was fun, but next season I'll work harder and set goals for myself."

REFUSE TO LOSE-INSIST ON WINNING

The 1991 varsity lady Warriors soccer team started and finished their season with a bang. With new assistant coach Virgil Kirksey at Coach Baker's side, the lady Warriors ran off to a 4 win 0 loss record, and a season long 329 minute shutout streak. Their first loss came in the R-9 J. B. Marine tournament held at Soccer Park against the 1991 Missouri State Champs, the Oakville Tigers. This loss had started the 'adrenalin' flowing for the girls. Their next challenge was to stop number one ranked Incarnate Word. The ladies were ranked seventh going into the game. The final score was 2-1, the Warriors graciously handing them their first loss of the season. After that fabulous win, the ladies only moved up to be ranked sixth in the St. Louis area with a record of 11-1 and outscoring their opponents 32-3. The girls kept improving throughout the season, and made, what would be, a final run for the state tournament for senior captains Angela Biason, Addie Lenzi, and Jennifer Harper, along with fellow seniors Hollie Taylor, Angie Jones, and Tia Rees.

It had taken much work mentally, physically, and socially but the girls did their best to stay together. The defense formed the alliance of the "no goal girl patrol" and held tight throughout the season. The "girl patrol" consisted of the backfield played by Tammy Dutko, Julie Goclan, Angela Biason, Ann Logan, Beth Rapoff, Jennifer Harper, and Stephanie Kult. Stephanie Kult said, "The no goal girl patrol did an excellent job. Julie Goclan and Ann Logan took a lot of heat off me by shutting down the big scorers. Tammy, Beth, and the rest of the team did a great job keeping the ball down at the other end. You couldn't ask for a better team." Julie Goclan also stated, "Being able to play soccer with the other girls this past year was great. When you have a group of girls who want to play and people like Coach Baker and Coach Kirksey who can make it work, you have a great team, and we did. That's good for the program. I just hope we can do it all again in '92." Julie had an outstanding year along with the rest of the defense, stopping everything that came at them. The Warriors stayed strong and beat Springfield High School in sudden victory overtime on a goal scored by Shawn Odom. This made the 1991 team the first girls soccer team ever to make it to the state tournament. Once at "state", which was held at Naperville Central High School, the lady Warriors decided that hanging around for one game was not enough. Amanda Witter, the teams leading scorer, led the girls to a 4-1 win over Downers Grove South. Amanda had three goals and became the first girls player in tournament history to score three goals in one tournament game. Ann Logan scored the other goal for the ladies. The second game created real trouble for the girls. Waubonsie Valley beat them 2-0 in a tough, physical game. Keeper Stephanie Kult played an outstanding game not to mention an outstanding season with a goal against average of .57. The ladies then played for third place. It was hard to come back with a strong attitude after such a tough game, but in the heat, the lady Warriors battled but lost to Shamburg 2-1 with a well respected fourth place finish. The girls were the first team ever in the history of Granite City girls sports to go to state and bring home a trophy for their accomplishments. The lady Warriors ended their season with a won-loss record of 21-4-0. Congratulations ladies on a great season .. keep the Granite City soccer legacy alive.

KICKING FOR GOALS

Enthusiasm flourished as the J.V. soccer team entered another season. The team was built together by the spirit and the leadership of Coach Haig Nighohossian. He has given the girls confidence and helped them with their attitude of the game. The girls ended up with an excellent record of 14-0-1. Without the coaching ability, this record would never of been so good.

Junior varsity soccer is not all fun and games. There was hard work and hours of practice involved. Sarah Mehelic said, "This years team was the best ever. The defense and midfield were solid as a rock, and the defense was superb. Everyone tried their best and never let down until the whistle blew. Coach Nighohossian really did a great job coaching us, and always made the game fun. I'd like to thank the whole team for making this year the greatest ever!" Practices were held every day after school until 5:30. Running, passing, learning new moves, and juggling were just a few things the players worked on. Kirsten Yobby added, "Being a part of the J.V. team has been a great experience. Our team worked together in all ways. All the hard work and frustration was forgotten about when we won; practices paid off."

Many players excelled because of the pushing and the attitude of Coach Nighohossian. With his ability and potential, soccer became a learning process. They learned how to win, and to do it with pride and sportsmanship. The girls have reason to be proud of their season, they worked hard and it showed. The girls stuck together even when they lost. They were a team.

TEAMING UP FOR SUCCESS

Springtime brings ambition, talent, and dedication from the Granite City girls softball team. The season begins as practices are held in March. After demonstrating their ability, the girls are selected to fill the positions on the team.

The girls achieve the positions they have earned and immediately begin practicing together many long, hard hours in the hot sun. The sport requires each player to move fast, think quick, and accurately control the ball. However, it is also important for each player to recognize the teamwork involved.

When asked what playing softball means to them, Dawn Bazzell replied, "I enjoy the challenges of playing softball. With a few of the JV players' help, this season turned out promising." Christie Hayden added, "I enjoy playing softball because everyone realizes that it's not just one person who makes up the team but all nine of the players out on the field." Melissa Tapp continued, "Playing softball last year was exciting, but challenging. I really enjoyed playing my senior year. With a combined effort from all of the athletes, the varsity team ended with a successful season."

Using a positive mental attitude, the GCHS softball team achieves what they have strived for throughout the season. Dedication begins to shine through the team after many long hours are spent on and off the field. Through all of the long practices and exciting games, memories and friendships are created that the whole team will remember forever.

YOUR YEARBOOK DAYS

Your high school years should be the happiest and most memorable. They should be filled with good buddies, term papers, senior dance, hallway talk, and dates. They should be four years of good experiences, fun, and happy thoughts. Before each day would even begin, you should wonder what wonderful and different things would happen to you today.

That's today. What about tomorrow? Or ten years from tomorrow? Would your children and your friend's children look at the pictures in your yearbook and find them as amusing as you do when you look at your parent's books?

All those funny-looking hair styles that looked so 'out of style' to you when looking at yearbooks from the 1970's would one day be you. All those clothing styles that were so 'in' would be what your children laugh at when they go through your 1992 book.

Your four years at this high school will come and go. Before you realize it, you will change from that mere freshmen to that grown-up senior. Each year you continue to grow and so will your memories. But your best and most precious memories are that of your senior year.

You remember the cold days in the parking lot and the 101-degree temperatures. You think about the tempting smells coming from the cafeteria and the different odors in the chemistry lab.

You will open your yearbook hundreds of times looking for the names of that person you couldn't remember. You will look at photos of your friends, teachers, principals. You will re-live the days you thought you had forgotten every time you read a story.

You'll know what kind of school we had, what kind of person you were, and what was important to you in 1992. You'll have the 1992 Warrior yearbook . . . a book that will always be with you.

THANK YOU

We, the yearbook staff, would like to thank everyone who has helped us in the publication of the 1992 Warrior yearbook.

A special 'thank you' to Kristin Jenness for being an outstanding yearbook editor and for taking such an interest in getting the book published. Also 'thank you' to D.P. Spudich. Without her constantly telling us what to do, the yearbook would not be what it is today.

Thank You ... to Mr. Kennerly for always watching us and knowing exactly where we are all the time - to Mr. Painter for reading our proofs and being so understanding - to Jo Ann for working so diligently and helping with the senior section and anything and everything else - Terri for her one-semester stay in yearbook - Melissa for her red hair, her 'words' of wisdom, and for being the president of the photography club - Gretchen for always smiling, being pleasant, and up-dates on Tim - Kristen for her fashion tips, comments, and ideas - Cori for her Betancourt journalism knowledge - Kendra for coping without Julie, Angie, and especially David L. Harris - Liz for always giving her honest opinion and being able to go to Cancun and her up-to-date and trend-setting hair style - Jo Ann for her hard work and living up to Mary's standards - Amanda for her vocabulary and her sense of style - Heather for doing the band section - To Mr. Lignoul for making sure we're always awake - The Granite City fire department for saving the 170 hallway - Bob Burkett for the realistic drawing of the yearbook staff, his impression of Dylan from the t.v. show Beverly Hills 90210, for being Liz's personal hero, and for being Mr. "Cool" - Connie for all her help, inside information, baby pictures, and for being our favorite monitor - Mr. Bertacchi for being our spotlight teacher of the year - Mr. Mihalich for the use of everything the yearbook girls needed - Mr. Spencer for being his wonderful self and for tolerating the yearbook girls and their sponsor - January 31 - Mike Chapman for leading the High World troops - Mr. Cook for lighting candles for all his students and being up-to-date on alarm clock sales - Ginger for entertaining the boys next door to us - Mrs. Johnson for helping Kendra with the A/V club - Mr. Yurko for keeping Gretchen and Liz entertained - Pop Harris for letting Liz go to Cancun - To Mom Nancy Gray for bringing Jo Ann "life" after school - Ginny for letting us "make a run for the border" - Mr. Lybarger for all his excellent identifying abilities - Dave Whaley for all the sports pictures - Mr. Burgess for being our favorite substitute teacher - Mrs. McWhorter for helping Cori and Melissa identify freshman pictures - Jeff for cleaning up our after school messes and for being so understanding when we had to stay late at night - Mr. Wojick (Stanley-the-Manly) for his greeting cards - Norm Bud for taking photos and making sure they were delivered on time - Nick for teaching Norman all he knows about photography - Ghostman - Susie Q. and Brian A. - Locker 1082 - Dad Gray for the use of GRAY 59 - Mary Gray for all her inspirational words and never-ending conversations - thank you Mama Jenness for always being there for Kristin when she needed you and your taxi service - to Chris Milton's dad for letting his son, Chris, use the truck during the homecoming parade - thank you Chris for driving the truck - Mrs. Randall for finally passing Gretchen in geometry and being such a kind and understanding teacher at all times and situations - Mr. Painter for approving all our stories and his leadership - Mama Ruth Novacich for her 'seal of approval' - Mr. McKechn for knowing how important the yearbook staff is and for being able to be cheerful at 8:00 in the morning - Derrick for his monkey sounds and impressions - Rubin for his knowledge of English and keeping us cheerful all the time - Mr. Hamilton for being our guest speaker - Dr. Mary Perdue-Tapp - Gladys for helping the staff with phone calls - Beverly G. for listening to the radio for us - Jim S. for making us aware of all the prizes and games played on the radio and his lovely wife, Patricia, for sharing him with us - Christine, Dimana, and John - Macaroni - Geraldine - Brittany Franko - Harriet Thing - Mary - Saw Tee Taw - the S-10 Blazer.

Thank you Amanda, Heather, and Jo Ann for returning to the yearbook staff next year - 'thank you' to everyone and anyone we missed in this expression of our gratitude - It has been an eventful year full of unexpected situations, interruptions, and complaints. It has been a year some of us choose to forget. It has been a year some of us will always cherish ... whatever the case, it has been a year that is now over ... good-bye ... see you next year.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has become an important employer of people with mental health problems.

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the mental health of people in the public sector. The Department of Health (1995) has published a strategy for mental health care, which includes a commitment to improve the mental health of people in the public sector. The strategy states that 'the mental health of people in the public sector is a priority for the Department of Health' and that 'the Department will work to ensure that people in the public sector have access to the same high quality mental health services as the general population'.

The Department of Health has also published a number of guidelines for the management of mental health problems in the public sector. These guidelines are designed to help public sector employers to create a supportive environment for people with mental health problems and to ensure that they receive the same high quality mental health services as the general population. The guidelines cover a range of issues, including recruitment, selection, training, and support.
